NEW POWER AUTHORITY TRIMS ELECTRIC RATES

Cutbacks Now In Effect

VANCOUVER Island householders can look forward to power rates cut from 11 to 60 per cent as a result of a new rate schedule announced yesterday by the new B.C. Hydro and Power Authority.

Rate reductions will be immediate.

The long-awaited new schedule is aimed at assisting the moderate user and the rural resident.

FIRST STEPS

Rate cuts apply only to the first two steps on the schedule—consumption of the first 100 and the second 200 kilowatt hours.

To obtain the percentage reductions cited in connection with the power authority announcement the consumer would have to use 300 kilowatt hours or less. An average amount of electricity used by a householder in one month is 900 kilowatts.

ISLAND CUTS

Percentage cuts based on 300 kilowatt hours consumption in Vancouver Island communities are:

- Victoria and environs 13 to 16 per cent.
- Alberni, Port Alberni, Comox, Campbell River, Nanaimo, eight to 11 per cent.
- Ucluelet 30 to 45 per cent.
- Port Hardy 53 to 60 per cent.

A Victoria area consumer using 900 kilowatt hours a month and paying approximately $16.10 under the old rate structure would save about $2.10 on the new scale.

10-15 PER CENT

Rate reductions on the Lower Mainland will range from 10 to 15 per cent for minimum residential users.

Farm consumers for the first time will be put on a par with householders for all electricity actually used for farm purposes. Previously farmers paid a slightly higher rate.

Legislation creating the new power authority melding B.C. Electric Co. Ltd. and the British Columbia Power Commission came into effect yesterday. (See story this page.)

The reductions were announced following a lengthy meeting between Premier Bennett and directors of the new authority in Vancouver.

SAVE MILLIONS

Mr. Bennett told reporters the reduction would save the people $5,500,000 annually on their light bills and in 10 years would cost the authority $70,000,000.

He said that this was only a beginning, that other reductions would be considered from time to time by the directors of the power authority.

GIANT CHEQUE

At the same time Premier Bennett announced that a cheque for $80,000,000 has been sent to the B.C. Power Corporation.

The government paid BCP $111,000,000 when it took over B.C. Electric last August. The $80,000,000 is to bring the final and fixed price paid by the government to $171,000,000 under legislation that provides it cannot be challenged in the courts.

The premier was asked repeatedly about the status of BCE but he declined to answer any questions concerning the court litigation.

"I DON'T HEAR YOU"

"I don't hear you," the premier said repeatedly as reporters pressed for details.

"What if B.C. Power Corporation refuses to accept the $80,000,000 cheque?" one reporter asked.

$100,000,000 Assets

Canadian Firm Seized By Brazilian State

RIO DE JANEIRO (Reuters)—Governor Carlos Lacerda of Brazil's Guanabara state announced Friday night he will take over the Canadian-owned Companhia Telefonica Brasileira immediately.

Lacerda said company authorities acted in bad faith during negotiations for government expropriation of the company. Lacerda returned from a trip to the United States Friday.

Expropriation negotiations had been suspended during his absence.

The company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Brazilian Traction, Light and Power Company Limited, with head offices in Toronto.

In Toronto, Henry Borden, president of Brazilian Traction, said word of a take-over of one of his company's subsidiaries in Guanabara province of Brazil came as a "complete surprise."

"I have no information which would enable me to make any intelligent comment on the information which I have just received."

Current value of the assets in Guanabara province is about $100,000,000, he said, adding that it was part of Brazilian Traction's integrated operation of public utilities.

Investment Divorces Husband

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Christine M. Juranek, 25, was granted a divorce Friday after she testified in circuit court that her husband beat her because her pregnancy upset his timetable for retirement at 25.

Mrs. Juranek told Judge John Pavlik that her husband, Frank, 25, a systems and procedure analyst, said he married her as a business investment and expected her to continue working.

Mrs. Juranek was awarded one-third of her husband's $7,000 in stocks and $150 a month support.

Merged Agencies May Wipe Out Suits Over BCE

By PETER BRUTON

PROVINCIAL cabinet yesterday paved the way for a reduction in electricity bills by proclaiming the act establishing the new B.C. Hydro and Power Authority.

The B.C. Electric Company and the B.C. Power Commission are now officially merged and the joint chairmen of the new authority are BCE chairman Dr. Gordon Shrum and BCPC head Dr. Hugh Keenleyside.

They will both be paid $40,000 a year—the same salary now paid Dr. Shrum and exactly twice as much as the $20,000 paid Dr. Keenleyside.

The merger may wipe out the court actions against the BCE by former shareholders and may get around the court order issued last week putting the BCE in receivership until the compensation question has been settled.

Magna Pipeline On Island By May, 1963

VANCOUVER (CP)—President Ralph K. Farris of Magna Pipe Line Company said Friday it is hoped the firm will have completed its natural gas pipeline to Vancouver Island by May, 1963.

Mr. Farris told the company's annual meeting he hopes next year's meeting will be a "turning on" ceremony.

UNWILLING TO SWITCH

Mr. Farris said completion of the pipeline by the end of 1962 was possible but not advisable since domestic users would be unwilling to convert their heating systems in mid-winter.

Magna will serve industrial users directly but will not itself provide retail distribution in urban areas.

VICTORIA-NANAIMO

The first stage of the Vancouver Island plan will serve the area from Victoria to Nanaimo. The second stage, to be completed by 1965, will extend the service to the Alberni, Campbell River, Elk Falls, Texada Island and Powell River on the mainland.

There were no injuries reported.

Ecuadorian Cabinet Forced Out

QUITO (AP)—The Ecuadorian cabinet resigned Friday night in the face of growing army pressure for a break in relations with Premier Fidel Castro's regime in Cuba.

The move was reported to have been taken to permit President Carlos Arosemena to form a new cabinet that would carry out such a policy.

Arosemena said he will call a national referendum soon so the whole country can decide whether or not to break relations with Communist governments. The army will police the referendum and the regular national election group will count the votes.

Two days ago a group of officers at the garrison in Cuenca demanded that Arosemena break with Cuba and Communist Czechoslovakia within 48 hours or resign. They also were reported to have asked that Arosemena purge the government of all Communist sympathizers and fire Social Welfare Minister Juan Isaac Lovato.

National Armies Replaced by UN U.S. Geneva Plan

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States will submit to the Geneva disarmament conference a plan calling for elimination of national armies within nine years and their replacement by a United Nations force, reliable sources said yesterday.

The American plan is to be submitted to the 17-nation group to counter a Soviet draft treaty for general and complete disarmament within four years, introduced when the conference opened here two weeks ago.

UNDUE ADVANTAGE

The West complains that the Russian four-year plan gives the Russians an undue military advantage in the early stages and does not include specific and detailed proposals for international controls to insure each nation destroys its arms on schedule.

The American plan was said to include these precautions as well as a UN peace force to maintain international law and order as national defences are torn down. The Soviet plan omits any mention of a standing peace force.

NEED BLUEPRINT

At yesterday's session the Soviet tried to commit the United States to total disarmament within four years but American negotiator Arthur Dean told Soviet delegate Valerin Zorin "you cannot build a house without a blueprint."

Dean proposed instead the 17-nation group set up subcommittees to consider such specific problems as how to end nuclear weapons production, how to destroy or reduce nuclear delivery vehicles, including ships, submarines, planes and rockets, and how to verify such measures.

Premiers Talks Set?

LONDON (AP)—A London conference of Commonwealth prime ministers on Britain's move to join the European Common Market seemed Friday to be shaping up for late summer or early fall.

Prime Minister Macmillan is expected to make a formal announcement about it in the Commons next week.

Thief Stymied

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters)—Desmond Wesley Friday was fined £15 for stealing golf balls from a golf course lake using a skindiver's outfit.

Philip Lands In Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO (Reuters) Prince Philip arrived in this Brazilian city by air Friday from Argentina on his way home after a two-month tour of Latin America.

Philip cut short his visit to Argentina by three days because of the political situation culminating in a change of presidents Thursday.

Clubs Got 'Special Treatment' From Cabinet, Says Official

TORONTO (CP) — Deputy Provincial Secretary R. J. Cudney Friday mentioned the names of two Ontario cabinet ministers in connection with gambling club operations.

He told the royal commission on crime that:

1. Mines Minister James Maloney, now dead, told him in 1960 not to be "too hard" on the Centre Road Club at nearby Cooksville.

2. In effect, Attorney-General Kelso Roberts had provided "special treatment" for clubs in Niagara Falls, Windsor and Cooksville.

Mr. Cudney said Mr. Roberts instructed him that police did not have to be informed about applications for provincial charters in 1957, though this was the common practice at the time.

Mr. Cudney described this as special treatment of the three clubs, which have been described by police as "thorns in the flesh" of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Merging Traffic

"Best flying I've ever done," said Richard Oxlow making this wing-crumpling landing on highway near Los Angeles. Neither he nor his three passengers was injured. Plane's carburetor had iced up and engine stalled.

Radiation May Cloud Robot Brains

WASHINGTON (CP) — Can radiation from nuclear explosions cause "amnesia" in the robot brains of missiles and anti-missile systems? If it can, the fact may force drastic revision by the United States of planning for offensive and defensive nuclear warfare.

This question may be one of the most important to be explored by American military scientists in the U.S. series of aerial nuclear blasts now scheduled for the mid-Pacific, starting late next month.

Some scientists think the intense emission of neutrons from a thermonuclear detonation may damage the delicate "memory cells" which are at the heart of any electronic computing system.

Without the information stored in the memory cells prior to launching, the computer would have no data with which to control the behavior of the missile in flight.

The same effect presumably could be produced on ground-based computer systems, essential for the detection, tracking and interception of enemy rockets.

The projected Nike-Zeus anti-missile system and the Ballistic Missile Early Warnings System utilize electronic brains extensively.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

NO night life in Victoria? I should be ashamed of myself for saying so, declares Mrs. Bessie Tang.

Mrs. Tang telephoned me to scold me about a recent story on the subject.

"You forgot all about square-dancing clubs," she said.

"But those are private clubs, and they don't count," I objected. "One of the things I said was that Victoria people don't seem to like public night spots, except on weekends—but they do go out to private parties."

"Anybody can join a square-dance club," Mrs. Tang said. "There are clubs for beginners as well as experts. About 4,000 people belong on Vancouver Island. And if you belong to one club, you can go along to any of the others.

See for Yourself

"Why don't you come and see for yourself?"

I mumbled that I would be delighted. I didn't have the courage to tell Mrs. Tang that square-dancing mystifies me. I tried it once and failed disastrously.

I turned left when I should have turned right. I ducked when I should have been weaving.

I can find my way home at night, but I cannot find my way from one corner of a square-dance to another.

But square-dancing is pretty to watch, and the girls look decorative as they prance around the floor with those big colored skirts swinging.

Apologies to the square-dancers. I had another complaint, from Chez Marcel on the Six-Mile Hill.

Nanaimo's Cool

The people there were hurt because I hadn't mentioned the dinner dance they have there each Saturday.

A friend told me about a facet of Nanaimo night life—a cool jazz club called The Inquisition.

"Better than anything Victoria ever had," she asserted.

This could be true. Little Nanaimo is livelier than big Victoria, anyway. Has anyone ever noticed how many young people you see hitch-hiking down the highway from Victoria to Nanaimo?

Soldiers and sailors in particular head out of Victoria for Nanaimo or Vancouver when they have a few days' leave and want a good time. I don't blame them.

As that musician said, Victoria really is "the squarest town in creation."

Power Rates Cut

"I don't hear your question," the premier said.

He also declined to be pinned down on where the $60,000,000 came from. It wasn't an overdraft, he said.

"It's a loan," one reporter suggested.

"I didn't say that," the premier shot back. "All I'll say is that it's a good cheque."

He said the new rates are what is known as a "postage stamp rate"—the same for householder electricity users all over the province formerly served by B.C. Hydro and B.C. Electric.

The Southeast Kootenay district is served by private utilities.

He said the authority will be given an annual $100,000 graft by the government as a subsidy to meet its costs in rural areas.

"There will be other reductions in rates," the premier declared. "There will be a time when our rates will be lower than the other provinces in Canada."

How was it all to be paid for?

"By good management," the premier replied with a smile.

Under the new schedule the rate will be 3.5 cents on the first 100 kilowatt hours of power used, compared with a former average of 5.0 cents. On the next 200 kilowatt hours the new rate will be 2.2 cents, compared with 2.5 cents.

The charge will be .9 cents on the next 400, and on all additional power used 1.25 cents per kilowatt hour—both unchanged from the former average rates.

Mr. Bennett also announced that a new transmission line will be built by the authority from Lillooet in the Cariboo to Prince George in central B.C. at a cost of $15,000,000 and a second new line between Pavilion, also in the Cariboo, to Kamloops, at a cost of $4,000,000.

These lines, he said, would be part of a "future provincial grid system."

CONFIDENT

The premier again spoke confidently of both the projected Peace and Columbia River projects. The premier is at odds with Ottawa over financing the Columbia and use of its downstream benefits and he has been having conferences with federal Finance Minister Fleming—the latest yesterday in Vancouver.

Mr. Bennett said "we wouldn't be having these continuing conferences unless we have something in mind"—referring to himself and Mr. Fleming.

He suggested he would be meeting the federal minister again inside of a month.

Power Agencies Merged

There is now no BCE and presumably, therefore, no company for former president Dr. H. L. Purdy to act as receiver for. It is understood that Dr. Purdy, appointed by the courts last week, had control of the company seal—a fact which gave him full control.

A new seal will be issued the new authority.

A section of the merger act, approved at the recent session of the legislature, reads:

"The authority shall not be sued or joined in any action or proceeding of any kind commenced before or after the coming into force of this act and pursuant to or relating to the meaning, application, or effect of the Power Development Act, 1961, or any provision hereof . . ."

RULES OUT ACTION

The BCE was taken over under this act last August.

Legal observers said that the wording of the merger act rules out the recent court decisions won by B.C. Power Corporation in its bid to get more money for the take-over of the BCE.

Premier Bennett told the legislature this week that the merger was necessary if electricity bill reductions were to take effect within the next two weeks.

TWO OMITTED

Two directors of the BCE appointed after the take-over of the company last fall—former B.C. lieutenant-governor Frank M. Ross and Vancouver lawyer Arthur Fouks—were omitted from the directorship. It is understood that they felt the new board should be bigger and also more representative.

NEW DIRECTORS

New directors are Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston and Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan, neither of whom will receive any extra money for their work; W. C. Mearns, Einar M. Gunderson, and F. A. Lee are to be paid $27,500 annually each, while F. A. Smith and John Dunsmuir will be paid $2,500 annually.

MANAGEMENT GROUP

Mr. Gunderson, Mr. Mearns and Mr. Lee will also serve on the executive management committee of the new authority.

Mr. Williston, Mr. Mearns, Mr. Gunderson and Mr. Dunsmuir were all BCE directors while Mr. Kiernan, Mr. Lee, and Mr. Smith were B.C. Power Commissioners.

Proclamation of the merger bill was made by the B.C. cabinet at the special meeting following prorogation Thursday evening.

The announcement was only made yesterday morning.

Break-In Brings Two Years

Stanley Charles Rife, 23, was sentenced to two years in B.C. Penitentiary yesterday for the Sept. 24 breaking and entering of the offices of Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Rife was convicted of the offence in assize court March 23 and remanded for sentence.

Mr. Justice R. A. Wootton adjourned the trial of Robert Gibb and Richard Gray on charges of possessing stolen goods, in order to give jury and accused men a rest.

In the interlude he passed sentence on Rife and also on Robert Archibald Simpson and Mector McMillan Reid.

Courage Missing

Angry Authors Aren't in Sight

Canada's first "angry young man" of the theatre appears to be nowhere in sight, at least for the present.

When he does appear, if he comes, it's likely he'll be a product of the theatre in French Canada.

Dr. Ann Saddlemyer of the English department of Victoria University said the lack of an experimental theatre was one of the biggest stumbling blocks for new playwrights in Canada.

Little Theatre groups, with a few exceptions, confined their productions to proven successes from the Broadway stage, she said.

The social conditions which fed the discontent of Britain's angry young playwrights of the 50s exist in Canada, said Dr. Saddlemyer, but so far no Canadian playwright has had the courage to speak his mind as did John Osborne and those who followed him.

When would the first of the Canadian angry young men appear?

MAYBE MONTREAL

Dr. Saddlemyer said she didn't know, and didn't care to make a prediction. But she indicated he might come from the many "basement theatre" groups in Montreal.

The two-day seminar sponsored by the evening division of Victoria University and UBC extension department winds up today with morning and afternoon sessions on the Gordon Head campus.

Courthouse Ceremony

Wait for Princess Royal

Victoria's new courthouse will likely be opened officially by Her Royal Highness Princess Mary when she visits the city June 16.

She will spend the day here with more than 1,000 members of her Canadian Scottish Regiment, of which she is colonel-in-chief.

Public Works Minister Chant said yesterday it was expected the princess would officiate at opening ceremonies for the courthouse at the same time.

"We realize this occasions a longer delay than usual in holding official ceremonies," Mr. Chant said.

"But this is one of our finest buildings and an official opening by such a personage as the Princess Royal is an opportunity worth waiting for."

Spokesmen for the regiment said Princess Mary's main function during the day would be to present new colors to the men. The colors carry battle honors won during the Second World War in northwestern Europe by the First Battalion.

PIONEER SQUARE

Plans call for a parade of Canadian Scottish veterans to the Pioneer Square regimental cenotaph the morning of June 16 with the Princess Royal inspecting what may be one of the largest group of veterans from both wars to congregate in Canada.

Some 400 cadets from affiliated units will march next in line.

The main color parade is slated for Beacon Hill Park that afternoon.

LATTER PART

In command of the parading units will be Col. L. S. Henderson, who led the first battalion during the latter part of the European campaign and throughout the occupation.

A regimental dinner, for veterans and serving officers alike, is slated for the Bay Street Armory that evening with the colonel-in-chief presiding.

Empire Mills Sold

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canadian Collieries Resources Ltd. announced Friday it will purchase the assets of Empire Mills Ltd., including timber holdings and tree farm licence.

Purchase price is $2,600,000.

In addition to the Empire tree farm licence centred on Squamish, the sale involves a veneer mill at New Westminster, a sawmill on the north arm of the Fraser, real estate at Squamish and timber at Tindall and in the Soo public working circle.

In acquiring the licence, the company has obligated itself to build a hemlock sawmill at Squamish to employ 175 men.

Your Good Health

Little Known of Cure For Shingles Virus

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband has had shingles for several months, and although he has not been to a doctor, he has been told by several people that there is nothing to be done but to wait for them to heal. Others have told me about people who have gone to the doctor and were cured in a few weeks.

In this modern day and age, surely something has been discovered to take care of them.—B.O.R.

Shingles is a virus infection of a nerve—and even in these times we know almost nothing about curing virus infections although we can prevent some of them with vaccines.

In shingles, we can do mighty little to cure an attack, except to support general health. This is important. We also can give medication to relieve the pain—and this, too, is important.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: I'd like your comments on a reducing system that claims you don't have to count calories. My husband is a fatty—about 75 pounds above average—and I worry about him. I've tried to induce him to get his weight within normal limits. So have doctors. Nothing works. He just likes to eat.—J.A.

The best I can say for the notion of not counting calories is that the counting doesn't mean anything—but the number of calories you consume certainly matters. So why try to kid ourselves?

Sometimes, it seems, the only way to get an obese man to reduce is for events—concerning his health—to scare the daylights out of him.

I recently talked to a man who joined a "reducing class" at a hospital and went down from 220 pounds to 180. His simple explanation: "I ate exactly what they told me to eat and nothing else. I found that eating lots of celery helped. I was the only man in the class. And I was the only person who reduced."

* * *

Mrs. J. T.: No, there's nothing "impossible" about curing trichomonas. The treatment is not always quick, but it generally succeeds.

$100,000 Set As Bail In Drug Case

VANCOUVER (CP)—Bail of $100,000 was set in Burnaby police court Thursday for Albert Evans, 31, charged with possession of narcotics for the purpose of trafficking.

Evans entered no plea and was remanded to April 5.

Police said Evans was arrested earlier in the day when he approached a drug cache which they had watched for a week. They said the cache contained 10 ounces of heroin, valued at $75,000 on the illicit market.

Police said they also seized 30 capsules of the drug from Evans' home.

Chamber Unit Away Today

A total of 25 Victoria Chamber of Commerce members leave the city today for a week-long goodwill tour of five Prairie cities.

The group will visit Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Regina, Edmonton and Calgary aboard a special CNR coach, spending about nine hours in each city.

Provincial government will be represented by Works Minister Chant. City representative is Ald. Austin Curtis and Saanich representative is Coun. Joseph Casey.

THE DEATH DOCTORS

Did they want to think? Even in Hitler's Germany the law still barred experiments that were likely to be painful or fatal, or which were made without willing consent. Field Marshal Keitel said the army wanted no part in Human experimentation, but 350 guilty men, the DEATH DOCTORS, worked on, stamping their reports "Top Secret."

When it was all over, they pleaded "we only acted under orders." THE NEWS OF THE WORLD believes these facts should be told: Read THE DEATH DOCTORS in THE NEWS OF THE WORLD, February 25th issue, NOW ON SALE, ONLY 15c.

Top Paris Fashion Model Lost Secret, Gave Up Life

PARIS — Top fashion model Anna-Lisa Cameron committed suicide here because her age was disclosed.

The tall ash blonde—known as The Great Anna in the Paris fashion world — barely looked the 30 she claimed to be but actually was 40, police reported.

They said her true age came out in a scene with frontier officials on a trip to West Germany Saturday and she was found with her wrists slashed in her hotel room here Monday.

The Swedish-born model was travelling to Munich by train Saturday with other models for the Paris fashion house of Nina Ricci to give a showing.

A frontier official noted that her passport's listing of her age had been obliterated by a cigarette burn. He asked to see her French identity card. There, too, her date of birth—Jan. 30, 1922—had been defaced.

In tears, The Great Anna admitted in front of the other women that she was 40.

She left the group and her body was found Monday.

Takes Oath Again

'Usurper' Cries Greet Guido

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Jose Maria Guido assumed the office of president Friday, with Argentina's military coup-makers at his elbow and cries of "usurper" in his ears.

There were some tears, too, at the Government House swearing - in ceremony which failed to dispel fears of civil strife and economic hardship that have harrassed the country for 13 days.

"I am crying for my country," said one man as he watched.

As the 51 - year - old former Senate president took the oath for the second time some onlookers in the salon shouted "viva" for Arturo Frondizi who was deposed as president and escorted to a navy prison home on Martin Garcia Island Thursday.

Five top - ranking generals who opposed the coup asked for retirement and three of them were reported under house arrest.

Intransigent Radical partisans of Frondizi in congress—where they are still the biggest political bloc—charged Guido with being a "usurper."

The deposed president himself in a letter written on the eve of his downfall, declared "an institutional parody is being prepared on the basis of a restricted democracy" and predicted "social warfare."

Moslem Peace Plea Shattered by Bomb

CP from AP-Reuters

ALGIERS — Abderrahmane Fares, Moslem president of Algeria's new provisional executive, appealed to the European minority Friday night for a "fraternal reconciliation" with the Moslem population in the building of a new Algeria.

However, his address over radio and television was drowned in the Algiers area by a pirate transmitter of the European Secret Army Organization.

"The real battle is now beginning," declared a Secret Army announcer as Fares' address was blotted out.

The announcer said guerrilla bands of the rightists "Keep-Algeria - French" Secret Army were poised in the mountains to strike and called on French troops to desert and join the terrorist underground in the Algeria.

The announcer claimed several French army units already had gone over to the Secret Army.

Germans To Build H-Bombs?

LONDON (UPI) — Moscow radio, quoting an East German report, charged yesterday that West German Defence Minister Franz Josef Strauss has advised Bonn's "top brass" to begin manufacturing their own hydrogen bombs.

It said Strauss made the statement at a conference of generals and other military leaders in Mainz.

The radio, monitored here, also quoted a London Express report that a West German defence ministry study "revealed that Bonn has every opportunity within five years to build up a sizable stock of H-bombs and other nuclear arms."

RICHARD J. BOWER, Editor-in-Chief

Improving Climate

NEWS DISPATCHES from Geneva did not suggest any material progress towards disarmament by the foreign ministers' conference but Mr. Howard Green has returned to Ottawa in an optimistic frame of mind, or at least not despondently. He thought the atmosphere was more favorable than before.

In Britain Lord Home spoke in somewhat similar vein when he returned; the assumption will be therefore that in their private talks the foreign ministers moved a little closer to agreement than their public statements might imply.

The West had its way in managing to have the foreign ministers meet in advance of the 17-nation conference rather than heads of government in a summit gathering. Mr. Green says now there is a reasonable chance of such a meeting of the major power leaders taking place.

Some such face-to-face talks between the big three, or four, would seem to be a logical follow-up of the Geneva talks, particularly in view of the threat of nuclear test resumption. President Kennedy's readiness to resume these tests will be against his grain and something he would gladly abandon did the international climate seem more favorable to real disarmament progress being made.

Premier Khrushchev promises in turn to start the test race all over again if the U.S. goes ahead, but presumably he also might prefer to call a halt to a circle that grows more vicious the more it is pursued. Mr. Green expresses the hope that the U.S. won't find it necessary to go ahead with its series of atmospheric nuclear tests, and this is a hope that will be echoed in general.

Perhaps only direct contact between Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Khrushchev will avert a resumption of the tests by either side, and it is at least heartening to have Mr. Green's feeling that the likelihood of such a meeting is in the offing.

Mr. Green for one has cause to feel satisfied with his own efforts at Geneva. He sought diligently to find areas of agreement and won praise for proposals on points where real progress might be made. He was speaking as he says for Canada, and although representing one of the lesser-power nations he made the influence of this country felt.

Bishop Hill

THIS COMMUNITY has suffered a grievous loss in the death of Most Reverend James M. Hill, the devoted, kind and gentle man who for nearly sixteen years had been the spiritual guardian of the Roman Catholics of Vancouver Island and the offshore islands as Bishop of Victoria.

By his humility and dignity, by his sincerity and understanding, Bishop Hill gave inspiring example to the people of his diocese, and earned the high respect and affection of all whose lives were touched by his, Catholic and Protestant alike.

The whole community has benefitted by having such a man in its midst since he came to Victoria from the Maritimes in 1946 to be the twelfth bishop of the diocese, and although the loss will impinge most sharply upon his own clergy and people it will be widely felt throughout this area.

As a prelate Bishop Hill adorned his high ecclesiastical office, and the sincere sympathy of all denominations will be allied with deep regret at his passing.

A Liberal Canard

THE LIBERAL PARTY must consider the electors of Canada extremely naive if it asks them to accept the party's statement that the Conservative government, since it took office in 1957, has cost the country $14,000,000,000—nearly as much as the national debt—by slowing down the national economy.

The Liberals also claim that based on the post-war boom experience there would have been 300,000 more Canadians working today if the Conservatives had been the opposition and the Liberals the government.

The Liberals are assuming that although they left Canada with the recession well under way; with an unfavorable international balance of payments; with a dropping export trade; they would have been able to make a "spent-out" ante-bellum boom continue.

The absurdity of their assumption that if they had remained in power the Canadian gross national product rate would have continued to grow at slightly more than four per cent a year, as it did in the early 1950s, is shown by the comparative U.S. figure. In the first half of the 1950 decade the U.S. gross national product rose at a rate of nearly seven per cent . . . two-thirds faster than it did in Canada.

Since 1957 the U.S. economy was also badly hit —surely no fault of the Canadian government—and the U.S. rate of growth for the past four years has been only 3.3 per cent.

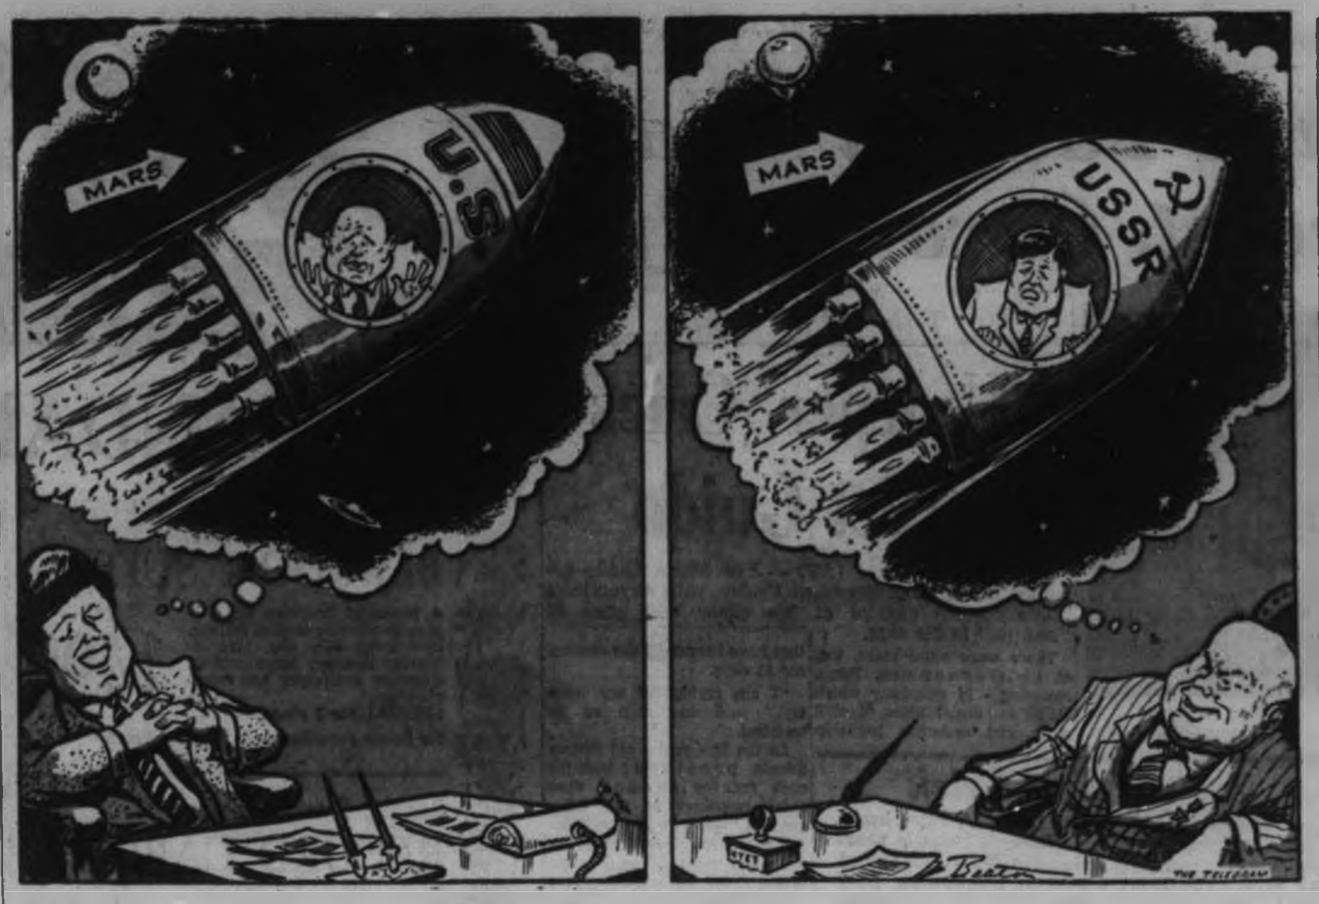

This is strictly in comparison with the slowing down of the Canadian national product rate, and thus indicates a continental rather than a national trend. It was something that Canada, under any government, could not have possibly avoided, and for the Liberals to suggest that they could have done so is a deception of the worst type.

It is very easy for the Liberals to produce chart lines of how the gross national product and employment rose during their tenure of office, and to continue those lines to show what Canada might have done if the economic situation had not changed, or if they had been in office.

But there will be few outside the die-hard Grits who will believe that in the world conditions of the past four or five years such a miracle was possible, even under the Liberals.

Indeed if the Conservatives had not rectified the disastrous Bank of Canada monetary policies, which were backed by the Liberals, and had not themselves introduced fiscal policies to bring Canada's dollar back into a true trading position, the national economy would have been much worse than the Liberals now picture it.

The truth is that Canada has weathered the recession extremely well and is now launching itself on a new period of expansion the credit for which the Liberals would dearly like to claim as their own.

Dreams of space co-operation . . .

The Bridge Toll Mystery

No More Than Presumption

By ARTHUR BLAKELY

THE probe of the Jacques Cartier Bridge toll collection mystery in 1960 was, unquestionably, one of the finest extravaganzas launched by a parliamentary committee in recent years.

It had everything. Or almost everything. There were strong overtones of political patronage. There were, too, distant (but singularly impressive) rumblings of displeasure from unidentified underworld figures whose keen interest in the toll collection system at the bridge was suggested by threats involving lives and limbs of some of the parliamentarians (and officials) involved in the probe.

There were the helpless shrugs of the toll collection officials who were at a loss to understand how, when, where or why the collection system was breaking down in the face of organized pilfering. There was suspense aplenty, too. No one could ever be quite sure which party, and which members of that party, would be embarrassed by the next batch of correspondence to be produced at the committee's demand.

It was a probe which went everywhere and nowhere.

* * *

It wound up in the heat of midsummer when the standing committee on railways, canals and telegraph lines turned in what could best be described as the Scotch verdict of "not proven."

Had millions of dollars been pilfered at the Jacques Cartier Bridge? And if so, how many? Over how long a period? By whom?

The committee reported with evident regret that it found the toll collection system employed at the bridge "obviously open to a substantial element of human frailty."

And no?

"The evidence before the committee did not positively establish pilfering or misappropriation of the tolls collected on the Jacques Cartier Bridge' . . ." the report went on.

It added, however: ". . . but it did give strong grounds for suspicion."

A suspicion, however interesting, is not a conclusion. And conclusions were a commodity in mighty short supply in the committee's report.

The committee did, though, come up with a "presumption."

Referring to breaches of the regulations which had been turned up in inspection after inspection during the 30s, 40s and 50s, the committee had this to say:

"This could lead to the presumption that some of the unexpected increase in revenue after the automatic (toll-collecting) equipment was installed might have resulted from the likelihood that money could have been diverted from its proper destination."

* * *

Once the committee's report was in, Parliament's interest in the hilarious toll-collection methods employed at the Jacques Cartier Bridge began to fade. Parliament had, after all, other matters of importance on its mind.

But interest has never faded entirely. It seems reasonable to assume that Jacques Cartier will be Canada's best-known bridge in Parliament, at least as long as the present Parliament remains. Too many MPs participated in the probe and remember vividly what they saw and heard for it to be any other way.

Twice during this session, Parliament has had reason to remember the great Jacques Cartier Bridge probe.

The first was at the beginning of the session when the government announced its intention of abolishing tolls on the bridge if suitable agreements could be reached with the province of Quebec and the city of Montreal. Negotiations to this end are still proceeding.

The other reminder resulted from the activity of Mr. Douglas Fisher (CCF — Port Arthur), one of the dazzled participants in the probe.

Mr. Fisher, who may have suspected for a time that such toll-collection methods were possible over a long period only in Quebec, placed a series of questions on the order paper relating to the bridge and its operation.

* * *

One of them, understandably, related entirely to the increase in tolls collected after the automatic collection equipment replaced the human toll collections on Sept. 8, 1958.

During the last quarter of 1959, total collections were up 53 per cent compared with those for the same period a year earlier. During the first quarter of 1960, the increase was 56 per cent. The increase reached a peak during the second quarter of 1910 when it touched 64 per cent. By the third quarter, the increase was back to 53 per cent. And during the last quarter of 1960, collections were up a meagre 11 per cent. During the four quarters of 1961, the increases varied from one per cent to eight per cent.

Mr. Fisher also learned that during the 27 months from the fall of 1959 to the end of 1961, collections had increased by $2,703,155. And the lion's share of this was picked up by the automatic machines between the fall of 1959 and the fall of 1960.

Why were the toll machines that much better than the human toll collectors in collecting tolls at the Jacques Cartier Bridge?

As the investigating committee reported in the midsummer of 1960:

"This could lead to the presumption that some of the unexpected increase in revenue after the automatic equipment was installed might have resulted from the likelihood that money could have been diverted from its proper destination."

But that, of course, is no more than a presumption.

Soviet Ambassador

Political Skater

By PETER DEMPSON from Ottawa

WHEN they performed in Canada a few winters ago, Soviet hockey players proved to be exceptionally strong and shifty skaters.

Their prowess in this respect, however, fades into insignificance compared with the political "skating" display their No. 1 diplomat to Canada puts on at times.

Dr. Amassasp Aroutunian, the swarthy, 59-year-old Russian ambassador, recently held an unusual "meet the press" party at the Soviet embassy. Buffet, ballet and briefing were the highlights of the affair.

The purpose of the press pow-wow wasn't the delectable, four-course Russian buffet served or the three artistic ballet films shown. Rather, it was the briefing—or news conference — with statements from, and questions to, the ambassador.

Since he was appointed to Ottawa in January, 1959, Dr. Aroutunian has held less than half a dozen such conferences. The fact that the last two have taken place within the past four months has led Canadian newsmen to wonder if this represents a change of policy by the U.S.S.R.

"Not at all," says one of Dr. Aroutunian's aides. "The ambassador has always been happy to meet the press."

* * *

Throughout Canada this has certainly been the case, but not necessarily in Ottawa. Up to now it has been somewhat difficult to arrange news conferences with the Soviet ambassador. But even more difficult has it been to get him to comment on world developments, international tensions or Canada-Russia relations.

Still, Dr. Aroutunian has always been quite approachable, it seems, when off in some part of Canada, addressing a certain organization or club. Newsmen have usually found him quite co-operative.

In the more than three years he has been posted to Canada, he has done more traveling and appeared in public oftener than any of his predecessors. If a log of his trips is kept by the Department of External Affairs, it would probably show more than 10,000 miles of moving about each year.

At his "meet the press" function, Dr. Aroutunian was his usual, affable self. He glad-handed news correspondents and TV and radio representatives as they arrived. He turned on his Armenian charm and said he wanted all of them to enjoy themselves.

Dressed in a dark grey suit with a maroon tie, he said he liked to mix with newsmen whenever he could.

"After all," he smiled, "I was a reporter and later an editor before I became a diplomat."

Before he led them to the vodka bar and the Russian buffet table, Dr. Aroutunian invited the representatives of the various news media to ask him questions about international events. The press conference was held in a small anteroom.

"Ask anything you wish," he said, "I'll try and answer."

Things went smoothly for a while. Then someone asked him about the Berlin wall that the Russians had erected between East and West Germany.

Somewhat taken aback, he blamed this development on the "provocations" of the West. "And anyway, it was the East Germans — not the Soviet Union — who built the wall. And I am not responsible for the actions of the East Germans," he snapped, "therefore I won't go into details."

* * *

Dr. Aroutunian resorted to some more political "skating" when he was asked why the Russians had dropped radar-jamming foil in the Berlin air corridors.

Again, he was somewhat ruffled as he searched for an answer. "It is misinformation to talk about such jamming," he said tartly.

Well, what was the correct information?

What about the pre-wall flow of refugees from East to West Berlin?

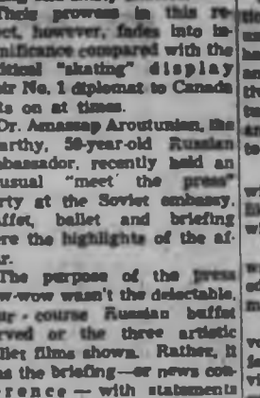

"East Berlin made no special efforts to attract people from the West," he replied. "There has been much provocation to encourage the westward flow from the Communist zone."

When asked if Premier Khrushchev's famous "we will bury you" remark was not a provocation, the ambassador said it was meant in a philosophical sense. "It has been misunderstood," he smiled.

Half an hour later, his "skating" and the showing of Soviet ballet films over, Dr. Aroutunian was again the friendly, courteous host.

"Your health," he said, lifting a jigger of vodka, "Za vashe zdorovyia."

"How will lower tariffs work with countries where our only export is money?"

The Packsack

By GREGORY CLARK

JANE Morgan and Nat King Cole are two of the very few popular singers of today who can sing the high notes without yelling. For the benefit of the younger generation, it might be mentioned that in former times, a person was said to have a voice who could sing the several bars within the range to which he or she aspired, with the same ease, and with the identical quality of voice.

It is too late, we realize, to do anything about it. The majority of the singing stars today wouldn't have made first base as recently as 20 years ago, when Bing Crosby and Kate Smith were setting the standard of popular vocal entertainment. To have to yell for the higher notes was the mark of the incompetent.

If your radio is handy, turn it on anywhere, now, and you will doubtless pick up a disc jockey program of pop music. Just listen to the namely singers. They have four or maybe six notes which are their favorites for the natural reason that they can more or less sing them. But listen to them turn on the steam, note them, so to speak, step on the gas, when they have to go a few notes higher than those six!

They could not get them out if they didn't whoop.

It is, of course, a far freer age in the realm of the arts and of entertainment. The public is much less fussy than it used to be.

U.S. Trade Gap

Positive Approach

By DAVID GRENIER

DRAMATIC is the only way to describe the changes that have been taking place in Canada's trade.

From a colossal deficit of $713 million in 1956, the balance of trade has swung steadily in this country's favor, resulting in last year's surplus of $87 million or more.

Yet behind this achievement lies a paradox: Canada's continuing annual deficit on trade with the U.S.

Last year (when there was an overall surplus) the deficit with the U.S. alone widened compared with 1960 (when there was an overall deficit).

The fact that Canada imports more from the U.S. than it exports to that country is almost as old as Confederation.

By tradition, this deficit has been covered in two ways—by a surplus on trade with the rest of the world and by the import of U.S. capital.

This in turn, however, has created problems, because it has created a debt that must be serviced out of Canada's foreign earnings.

What's the answer?

Some have seen it in placing controls on imports (apparently without regard for possible retaliation). But there's a more positive approach possible.

One line of attack is to seek to make things in Canada that are presently imported from the U.S.

The department of trade and commerce is presently making industry-by-industry studies to see what is feasible. Its first report was on oil drilling equipment — and significantly, Trade Minister Hees was recently able to announce a new licensing agreement under which a Canadian company is to make an imported line.

The second approach is to step up sales of Canadian goods in the U.S. This is where the new Hees plan to fly in prospective U.S. buyers comes in.

It's a carefully thought out program that has been developed with the aid of the men in the field — the trade commissioners in charge of the eight offices Canada has in the U.S.

Here's further proof, if proof were needed, that Canada wants to sell wherever it can make sales without discrimination. Here also is perhaps the best chance of all of curing a worrisome trade gap.

With the Classics

Thou wast not born for death, immortal Bird!
No hungry generations tread thee down;
The voice I hear this passing night was heard
In ancient days by emperor and clown:
Perhaps the self same song that found a path
Through the sad heart of Ruth, when, sick for home,
She stood in tears amid the alien corn;
The same that oft-times hath
Charm'd magic casements, opening on the foam
Of perilous seas, in faery lands forlorn.

Defence Spending

By MARQUIS CHILDS

NO subject is treated with more tender concern in the Congress and in the country than the degree to which the economy is sustained by defence spending, currently running well above $50 billion a year. To talk about it is to risk documenting the Communist charge that munitions payrolls and profits are so vital that the United States cannot afford disarmament.

This fear is aptly illustrated by a long controversy over a study prepared by the Senate disarmament subcommittee analyzing 370 companies doing a major part of defence contracting. The study completed last fall is still locked in the files of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee because some senators believe it might give aid and comfort to the Communists.

* * *

The chairman of the disarmament subcommittee, Senator Hubert Humphrey, insists that, on the contrary, the study shows that with some exceptions in areas such as Southern California the adjustment from defence to peacetime spending could be made with comparative ease. He is pushing hard for release of the report.

Since the study covers figures for 1959 and defence spending has been jacked up to a new high, it may be outdated.

But Humphrey believes the conclusions are still valid. While the fact that 70 per cent of total defence sales made by 370 firms went to 24 prime contractors is not desirable from the standpoint of public policy, the senator says, nevertheless, the concentration is not as great as it has been made to sound.

* * *

Of the 24 companies only eight had higher receipts from commercial production than from defence production, according to Humphrey. Yet the total of $16 billion in defence sales represented for the 24 only 38 per cent of all the business that they did. Obviously, Humphrey says, any program of adjustment to a comprehensive arms - control agreement must begin with these 24 giants.

The aircraft companies, the Humphrey report shows, are those most deeply involved.

Nô company replying to the questionnaire suggested that the problem of adjusting from defence production to peacetime production was a reason for not trying to achieve disarmament, Humphrey points out. Many replies stress the need for joint action by the federal government and private enterprise on an industry-wide basis to cushion the changeover for industry and workers. The overwhelming majority of the companies indicated, however, that they believe the primary responsibility rests with private industry.

If what has been happening in Geneva is any criterion, disarmament is a long way off. But the fear of some observers here is that with the spiraling of defence expenditures and the increasing pressures of the military - industrial complex any serious effort to scale down the ever-growing mountain of armaments will meet with serious resistance.

* * *

How these pressures work has been shown in an account recently prepared by Edward K. Mills Jr., an Eisenhower appointee as deputy administrator of the General Services Administration, which acts as watchdog on government spending. Together with Franklin Floete, administrator of GSA, Mills set out to cut down rate charges of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company which he was convinced were running $25,000,000 a year too high for the 10-year life of AT & T's contract to service the SAGE early - warning system. Not only Sherman Adams in the White House but a battery of Republican and Democratic senators opposed GSA, as AT & T district managers all over the country contacted their congressmen. After being stymied once, Floete and Mills persisted and the rate charge was finally cut $15,000,000 a year for a saving of $150,000,000 on a system that is now largely obsolete.

To military and industrial pressures a third must be added — political pressure. With the persistence of hard-core unemployment and with the Congress likely to block the president's measures to cushion or prevent another recession, the easy way out is through more defence spending and the routing of defence contracts into congressional districts where there is persistent joblessness.

With the congressional election in the fall this kind of pressure may become irresistible. As a built-in adjunct to the military - industrial complex it adds another factor to the uneasy dependence on the big money in defence.

LETTERS to the Editor

To be considered for publication in whole or in part letters must be on subjects of general interest, not more than 300 words in length, and, if signed with a pen-name, must be accompanied by the writer's name and address.

As one of the earlier residents on the much-maligned Foul Bay Road, let me most earnestly join in a plea to keep the name which our pioneers considered applicable to this link between the waterfront and Oak Bay Avenue. When my parents built their home at 550 Foul Bay Road in 1910, I imagine they did not envisage that 40 years later it would be known as the "Wayside House" and put to the good use it is doing now.

When I rode my pony along the dirt road, as it used to be, up to Cedar Hill and back, I scarcely imagined that a big new university would one day be built where it stands; for all around my home stood the Pemberton Woods and such familiar landmarks bear memories for all whose roots lie in Victoria.

For the love of heaven let us keep a few old names—and not change Douglas Street into Diefenbaker Way, Craigflower Road into Pearson Avenue, or Dallas Road into Astronaut Parade for Victoria is not Edmonton nor even Vancouver, and if Foul Bay Road was good enough for our ancestors why change it into anything as common or provincial sounding as University Way?

Night Sittings

As one interested in her province and our Canada I must say I am thoroughly disgusted with the present government idea of laws.

I refer to these unearthly night sittings which are to my mind illegal. I consider the way our present government sitting has been run this session is terrible, the way they fight and waste the public money.

We can't expect the women members to fight re this matter, because the opposition would immediately say women are softies, which I know women are not. I don't consider any work brought up at these night sittings can have been good work.

Were I a member, I would demand that these night sittings be abolished, and that the provincial meetings be held in the morning and continued in the afternoon.

No work done when members are tired, as they must be with these terrible night and continued-to-morning sittings, can be good and done with a clear brain.

Old Boys 'Hopeless'

Victoria University Prof. Anthony Emery looked placidly out over a sea of polished heads last night and told their owners—the members of the Canadian Headmasters' association—that private school education was a lot of piffle.

Prof. Emery, himself a product of the British "public" school system, told the amazed educators these institutions impress upon their student body a brand of muscular Christianity. "A package which I rejected holus bolus."

His tongue-in-cheek assault upon private schools and the hoary institution of the "old school tie," was sprinkled with peppery suggestions for modern teachers.

"If you have anything to do with the education of the young, try telling them the truth occasionally. Prove to them—if you can—that you're not as stupid as you look."

Though Prof. Emery did indeed graduate from his own school, he staunchly insisted he did so despite the best efforts of the masters and teaching staff.

"What I got out of school, I got from my reading in the library—a program subject to constant interruptions for examinations and similar nonsense."

He saved his choicest expletives for the pathetic image of the perpetual "old boy," blissfully at home in his school but a hopeless creature everywhere else.

"He was a man well trained in football, rowing, cricket and heaven knows what else, but his education was gravely neglected."

Despite the saws of headmasters for time immemorial, he said, the battle goes neither to the swift nor the strong—but to the glib.

The masters and old boys, representing every major private school in Canada, cheered politely.

Far East Exercises

Three Destroyers Set Mark in Navy History

Three Canadian destroyers this month set a first in Canadian naval history by participating in Commonwealth naval exercises in the Far East.

HMCS Assiniboine, Margaree and Ottawa of the Second Canadian Escort Squadron, Pacific Command, recently completed exercises with ships of the navies of England, Australia, New Zealand, India and Malaya. More than 30 ships took part.

Destroyers were under command of Capt. Victor Browne. During the exercise naval commanders of each participating nation exercised tactical control of surface forces throughout the exercise.

The three ships recently completed a visit to Bangkok and are headed for Hong Kong.

University Scientists Get $7,750

Two members of the physics department at Victoria University have been awarded a grant of $7,750 by the Defence Research Board. Dr. David Rankin and Prof. Harry Dosso are studying the earth's magnetic field. The grant is the first of its kind to be made to the department, a university spokesman said.

Robin Wood Brilliant When Finally Heard

By BERT BINNY

It seems something of a pity to have a gifted guest artist like pianist Robin Wood and then drown him out.

This was just what the Victoria Symphony orchestra seemed to be doing at the start of their concert at Sidney last night.

For at time it looked as if Mr. Wood's contributions to Rachmaninoff's C-minor concerto would be strictly limited to solo passages and cadenzas.

By the second movement, however, things were much improved and balances adjusted and, but for a slight re-in the last movement, every-currence of the same trouble thing went along swimmingly.

THOSE PASSAGES

Mr. Wood performs with singular purpose and definition and—what is a great deal more—relinquishes none of this in those passages which demand speed and technique without loss of accuracy.

For thoroughly deserved encores Mr. Wood played a familiar Chopin mazurka and de Falla's Ritual Fire Dance.

FEARSOME TALE

The second half of the program was occupied by the orchestra's performance of Beethoven's Fifth symphony. Neither this nor any other orchestra could ever express in music the fearsome description of this symphony contained in the program, but they nevertheless provided a genuinely sensitive performance. This went from strength to strength as the score unfolded.

SCHOOLS, TOO

The concert goes on at the Royal Theatre on Sunday at 3 p.m. and Monday evening at 8.30. The schools' symphony orchestra will also be heard.

Two Convicted

Brother Fails in Bid To Shoulder Guilt

By G. E. MORTIMORE

Richard Gray and Robert George Gibb, no fixed address, were found guilty in Assize Court yesterday of two charges of possessing stolen goods and a charge of possessing housebreaking tools.

Mr. Justice Robert A. Wootton remanded them until the end of the Assizes for sentence.

ANOTHER CHARGE

Gibb comes before an Assize Court jury Monday on a charge of possessing narcotics.

An all-male jury yesterday took 20 minutes to reach a verdict after a 2½-day trial.

A girl spectator left the court sobbing just after the verdict was announced.

ALREADY SERVING

Gray's brother Donald Gray, already serving a prison term, attempted in the witness stand to take all blame for offences with which his brother and Gibb were charged.

Crown Counsel Lloyd McKenzie had Donald Gray brought from the B.C. penitentiary, where he is serving a total of three years and three months.

VARIOUS CRIMES

His terms were for theft of a power drill from the T. Eaton Co., breaking and entering and theft of cigarettes from Oak Bay Boathouse, breaking and entering and theft of coins from a cigarette machine at Lake Hill Lunch, possession of narcotics and escaping from custody.

The Crown called Donald Gray to establish that the goods the two accused men were accused of possessing were in fact stolen goods.

TOOK TO CABIN

Donald Gray testified he had stolen the power drill, cigarettes and coins and taken them to cabin 22 of Craigflower Auto Court, where he was staying with his brother and Gibb.

Donald Gray said he had carried out the crimes on his own and the other two men had no knowledge of the crimes or the goods which he hid in the cabin.

Generator Model Takes First Place

John Fisher, a Grade 9 student at Lansdowne Junior High School, yesterday took first prize in the school's second annual science fair with his model of a parabolic solar steam generator.

Second prize went to Bob Tapp, Grade 9, for his model of a super heterodyne radio receiver.

There was a tie for third between Andrea Moore, a Grade 9 student who displayed a cross section of a leaf, and Don Craigmyle, Grade 7, who built a working model of a hydro-electric power dam.

More than 30 projects, all completed by the students in their spare time, were entered in the science fair. Exhibits and displays were on show at the school last night.

High calibre of all the exhibits impressed the panel of six judges drawn from the staffs of Victoria University, Canadian Services College, Royal Roads, and the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory.

Judges were: W. R. H. White and Berhard Caner of the observatory staff; Prof. C. S. Burchill, Royal Roads; Charles Forward, Prof. Harry Dosso and Prof. F. E. Deloume, all of Victoria University.

Grosvenor-Laing Development Company (Canada) Ltd. is to announce its development plans for Victoria at a lunch at the Empress Hotel next Tuesday.

The British firm, which built the Annacis Island Industrial Estate in Vancouver, has the option to purchase the Baker Brick and Tile plant on Douglas Street. On this 22-acre site, Grosvenor-Laing hopes to construct a new shopping centre that will include a department store.

The popular belief is that the long-awaited and often-postponed Woodwards department store will go up on the site.

MILL PROPERTY

Vendors of the Baker Brick and Tile property are Ocean Cement and Supplies, whose subsidiary — Evans, Coleman and Evans—is negotiating for the acquisition of the old Crowe Gonnason lumber mill property on Government Street.

An official of Evans Coleman and Evans said yesterday that the consolidation of his company's two plants in Victoria was very near.

"We are merely waiting confirmation that we are to get waterfront rights at the Crowe Gonnason property," he said.

AT SAME SITE

Evans Coleman and Evans proposes to shift its sand, gravel and concrete mix plant, now next to the B.C. Ferries headquarters on Wharf Street, to the new Government Street site along with the brick and building supply business of Baker Brick and Tile.

A special meeting of city council has been called for 9.30 a.m. Tuesday "to consider matters connected with the proposed Grosvenor-Laing development affecting the Evans, Coleman and Evans Ltd. property at Douglas Street and Tolmie Avenue . . ."

1,182 on Trial for Cuban Invasion

First pictures of mass trial in Havana show 1,182 prisoners on trial for last April's abortive invasion of Cuba. Prisoners yesterday refused counsel and would not enter pleas. Principal accusation appears to be they were "mercenaries" who invaded Cuba on orders of "U.S. imperialism." Foreign press and relatives were kept from court by gun-toting militia. —(AP Photofax.)

U.S., Russia Agree To Weekend Talks

GENEVA (Reuters) — American and Soviet delegates to the 17-nation disarmament conference agreed Friday to meet during the weekend to discuss Russia's disarmament program.

The agreement came after a 3½-hour conference session that was described by Western spokesmen as "conciliatory."

United States delegate Arthur Dean and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Zorin will report back to the conference Monday after their weekend meetings. They met for an hour after the conference session to consider priorities of discussion and arranged to meet again today.

In a long speech Friday Zorin hinted that Russia might be willing to compromise on a timetable for complete disarmament.

Southern Allies Riled

Ribicoff Drafts Frontal Assault On Segregation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary Abraham Ribicoff made a surprise announcement yesterday that the Kennedy administration plans to take its first direct action against racial segregation in the nation's schools.

In a statement that drew immediate fire from southern Democrats in Congress, Ribicoff said his health, education and welfare department will cut off some federal aid next year to certain segregated schools attended by the children of servicemen and government workers living on federal installations. Integrated schools would be provided for the youngsters.

The political effect of Ribicoff's statement was expected to be immediate and troublesome for some of President Kennedy's key legislative proposals such as his liberal trade plan and medical care program.

To win congressional approval, Kennedy is depending heavily on support from southern Democrats. So far, the southerners have displayed a willingness to be wooed.

But Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, said the aid cut-off "constitutes a flagrant act of economic blackmail."

Ads Butted Out.

LONDON (UPI) — The British Medical Journal has decided to ban all tobacco advertising from its columns.

Mafia Probe Demanded By Sicily

PALERMO (Reuters) — The Sicilian regional parliament called yesterday for an immediate national investigation of the Mafia, the dreaded 100-year-old Sicilian secret society.

The legislators passed an all-party motion urging the Italian Parliament in Rome to set up a commission of investigation.

Many killings and attacks on property have taken place in the Palermo area recently.

'For Several Years'

Anti-Missile Site Peril to Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — An area surrounding a little Pacific island will be dangerously off-limits to aircraft "for at least several years," a Pentagon spokesman said Friday.

MAGNETIC RADIATION

Expanding on a terse announcement made a few days ago, the defence department explained that the peril comes from "electro-magnetic radiation" from ground installations connected with the Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile system.

ULTRA HIGH POWER

Involved is ultra-high-power radar equipment installed and undergoing tests on Roi Namur Island in the Kwajalein atoll, the site for the army's Nike-Zeus tests. Later this year, tests of the Zeus against Atlas ICBM rockets launched from California will began.

Let's Sit Out This Break

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI) —Earl Ray House and William Hill cut their way out of the county jail with a smuggled hacksaw and then urged 19 other prisoners to follow suit as they fled.

"They just sat there," a policeman said. "Finally, one of them called the jailer who boarded up the window."

Let's Co-Exist

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Russia's new ambassador, Anatoly Dobrynin, told President Kennedy that the Soviet Union wants "peaceful co-existence" and is convinced that present difficulties can be overcome.

Do Pigs Have Wings?

NANAIMO — Lewis Carroll asked "whether pigs have wings" and the same problem confronts the RCMP, which says two guinea pigs have flown the coop.

Betty Strain, 547 Chestnut, says the little animals were kidnapped sometime last night.

Hillcrest Acts to Head Off Shutdown of Troubled Mill

DUNCAN — An official of Hillcrest Lumber Co. said yesterday contract fallers will be employed by the firm to avert a total shutdown resulting from a 12-week-old dispute with 70 loggers.

The official said the step must be taken to ensure continuation of the sawmill operation and the livelihood of some 240 company employees.

He said contract fallers are prepared to commute from the Victoria area to the firm's Mesachie Lake operations west of Duncan at their own expense.

OWN EXPENSE

The 70 loggers idle as a result of the free bus dispute have refused to travel to work at their own expense. Until this year they travelled from the Duncan area to Mesachie Lake on company-operated buses.

Log production dropped from 25 to five truckloads a day following termination of the bus service. Only loggers still on the job were those whose homes were in the Mesachie Lake area.

IWA claims the bus service was a condition of employment in spite of the fact it was not required by terms of the union's agreement.

WON'T NEGOTIATE

The company claims the service was discontinued as an economy measure and has refused to negotiate its restoration.

A Duncan IWA spokesman said last night only two contract fallers reported for work at Hillcrest yesterday and one had told union members he wouldn't be back.

The union official said the use of contract fallers "is an act of intimidation," but declined to say what the union will do if the company continues or expands the policy.

Cuba Trade Doubles

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian domestic exports to Cuba totalled $27,088,000 in the first 11 months of 1961, trade figures showed Friday.

This was more than double the $10,584,335 worth recorded in the corresponding period a year earlier.

Alcock Elected

TORONTO (CP) — Dr. Norman Alcock, moving spirit behind the Canadian Peace Research Institute, was elected president Friday and instructed by the board of directors to put the institute on an operating basis immediately.

Public Hearings End

Angus Sifts Evidence In Puntledge Dispute

COURTENAY — Dr. H. K. Angus has completed public hearings by his one-man royal commission investigating the Puntledge River fish-power dispute.

Now, he begins the difficult work — sifting the evidence, as he put it when hearings ended, to determine whether or not additional work should be carried out "taking into account the relative value of fish and power."

The additional work, if ordered, would be done by B.C. Hydro along the river to protect salmon runs which many groups claimed have disappeared, or soon will.

B.C. Hydro officials testified they felt "less costly and simpler provisions" than fisheries officials want would be adequate.

Briefs were submitted by the Chamber of Commerce, Native Sons, Courtenay Fish and Game Protective Association, Save Our Salmon committee, Roderick Haig-Brown, auto courts, fishing resorts, the conservation department commercial fisheries branch and the Comox tribe.

All stated the tourist industry had been hurt by Puntledge power facilities (the haul dropped from 7,317 pounds in 1954 to 2,790 pounds last year) and some even claimed the entire $1,000,000 tourist industry could be wiped out unless quick action is taken.

Wrong Mental Care In Large Institutions

Mental health programs based on custodial treatment in centralized institutions should be scrapped, Dr. James Tyhurst, head of the department of psychiatry at the University of British Columbia, told the annual meeting of the B.C. Mental Health Association last night.

The psychiatrist said a report covering a seven-year survey of the pattern of treatment for Canada's mentally ill would recommend community treatment centres and dissociation of mental health care from control by provincial civil service.

Chairman of the group of leading psychiatrists who conducted the probe, Dr. Tyhurst said no more money should be spent on institutions devoted to segregating the mentally ill from the community.

He termed construction of bigger and better mental hospitals and recruitment of larger staffs "patchwork" therapy for the problems unveiled by the committee in their probe.

Mental care should be undertaken at the local level, with psychiatric wings in general hospitals. Such revisions were "straightforward — but radical if properly applied."

'Three Steps' Mark Nigeria's Stability

Three necessary steps — national feeling, training and a reasonably stable economic background — lie behind the progress made by Nigeria as a free, independent nation.

Sir James Robertson, former governor-general of Nigeria, cited these steps last night before the English-Speaking Union at 1610 Oak Bay Avenue, and attributed them to the wisdom of Britain's colonial policy.

To be successful in independence, Sir James said, a country must achieve a national feeling. This, in a land of 250 tribes, languages and faiths, was not easy; but in Nigeria it was done.

Second, the country's leaders must be trained, in politics, in statesmanship, in the professions and in business. With them, the civil servants must be trained to step into the shoes of the Britons who left when the land gained independence.

Third, there must be a reasonably stable economic background — a development of the country's resources in agriculture, in minerals. It must produce a reasonably well-balanced budget.

IWA 'Notes' Profit

PORT ALBERNI — The IWA has taken note of increased net earnings of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd. in 1961 and plans to negotiate accordingly, a spokesman says.

Walter Allen, president of the large IWA local, here cited the company's net earnings increase from $24,575,000 in 1960 to $27,400,000.

He said the 1961 earnings bear out the union contention the coast forest industry is in "better shape that it has ever been."

"It is the intention of the negotiation committee and the membership to obtain our just share of the improved financial condition."

New League This Season

Greater Victoria, which supposedly reached saturation point with minor baseball leagues last season, has another new one going.

The Cosmopolitan Babe Ruth League brings to 21 the number of leagues in operation in this area, the largest minor baseball set-up in North America on a per capita basis.

All of them are getting ready to play.

Times and places of registrations are listed below, and Little League boundaries are shown on the maps. First, a summation of the whole organization.

Little League takes in boys 9-12. Pony League is for boys 13-14, and Babe Ruth leagues take in boys 13 to 15 inclusive. Connie Mack League, the final step before senior competition, is for boys 16-18 inclusive.

TWO REQUIREMENTS

Prospective players and parents are reminded that, while the fee might vary slightly, all leagues have two requirements to be met before a boy can register. He must bring his birth certificate, and he must be accompanied by one parent.

About boundaries.

Victoria Babe Ruth League takes in the Esquimalt, Fairfield, James Bay, National and Oak Bay Little League map territories.

Optimist Babe Ruth league includes all of Saanich with the exception of Gordon Head and Cadboro Bay, the section bounded by Cedar Hill Road south to Cedar Hill Crossroad, south on Shelbourne to Knight Avenue, east on Knight to Richmond, south on Richmond to Lansdowne and East on Lansdowne to the water.

WEST OF BOUNDARY

The Optimist league is on the west of this boundary, and the Cosmopolitan league takes in the territory to the east.

Carnarvon Pony League takes in the National and Oak Bay Little League territories plus the American League territory extended north to Ruby Road.

Layritz Pony League takes in the Hampton and Layritz Little League territories, while the Triangle Pony League includes the Triangle Little League territory plus Belmont, Glen Lake, Happy Valley and Metchosin areas.

GUMP WORSLEY . . . like blocking puck

Worsley to Rescue

TORONTO (CP) — Dave Keon told Friday how New York goaltender Gump Worsley, who robbed the Toronto Maple Leaf centre of more than one goal in Thursday night's National Hockey League semi-final, saved him from possible serious injury by deflecting him like a puck.

"I was going in after a loose puck," Keon said at a Leafs pracitce. "My stick got caught and I lost my balance. I was heading head-first for the goalpost but Gump stuck out his pad and I spun around the post when I hit his leg."

Toronto won the game 2-1 to take a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven series.

Worsley said: "I saw him coming and I put my pad between his head and the post. He might have got a very bad knock on the head. But he's a great hockey player and a real guy. Did you see him come up to me at the end of the period? 'Wanted to say thanks,' he said."

In Badminton Final

Indonesian Ignores Court Chatterbox

MONTREAL (CP)—Veteran Ferdinand (Ferry) Sonneville from Indonesia ignored Jim Poole's court chatter and outlasted the San Diego, Calif., high school teacher 17-16, 17-18, 15-9 Friday night to win the men's singles title in the Canadian badminton championships.

But the volatile, power-belting Poole came back with 38-year-old Bob Williams of Buffalo, N.Y., to whip the pattern-playing Asian and young lawyer Jim Carnwath of Toronto 15-6, 15-8 for the doubles crown.

Toronto's Marj Shedd won the women's singles for the fifth time and second year in succession by outclassing Mrs. Jean Follinsbee, a Calgary mother of two who was the 1955 winner. The score was 11-3, 11-5.

Miss Shedd and Dorothy Tinline also made a successful defence of the women's doubles championship.

In the mixed doubles, Miss Tinline and Sweden's lanky Bernt Dahlberg combined for a 15-6, 15-8 win over the Vancouver twosome of Bert Fergus and Mrs. Jean Bardsley.

Wayne Macdonnell, 21, a quick-moving mail order clerk from Vancouver who shows plenty of promise, dumped Carnwath 15-1, 15-11 in the Canadian closed men's final restricted to homebred competitors.

The red-headed Macdonnell went into the tournament listed behind top-ranked Carnwath in the Canadian Badminton Association ratings.

Miss Shedd and Dot Tinline coolly disposed of a pair of old hands from Vancouver in the women's doubles final.

They scored a soft 15-5, 15-4 win over Mrs. Jean Bardsley, 39, a mother of two, and Mrs. Claire Lovett, who also claims to be 39 but breaks into a wide grin when she says it.

Earlier, rugged - looking Ed Paterson capped a brilliant junior performance, in the four-day tournament, by combining with fellow Vancouverite Bruce Rollick for the boy's doubles crown.

WINS EVERY MATCH

Paterson, a first - year arts student at the University of British Columbia, was the winner in all of his nine matches in the meet.

The broad - shouldered 195-pound youngster Thursday won the singles title for players 18 and under then paired with Victoria's Diana Godfrey for a mixed doubles victory in the same category.

Gordon Wade and Sam Mccallum of Niagara Falls, Ont., bowed 18-16, 15-4 to Paterson-Rollick in Friday's play.

The junior girls' tandem went to Winnipeg's Maria Stubbs and Eleanor O'Gorman, the defending champions, a pair of arts students at the University of Manitoba.

In surprisingly easy fashion they stroked to a 15-4, 15-1 win over Victoria's Judy Humber and Alison Daysmith the singles finalists.

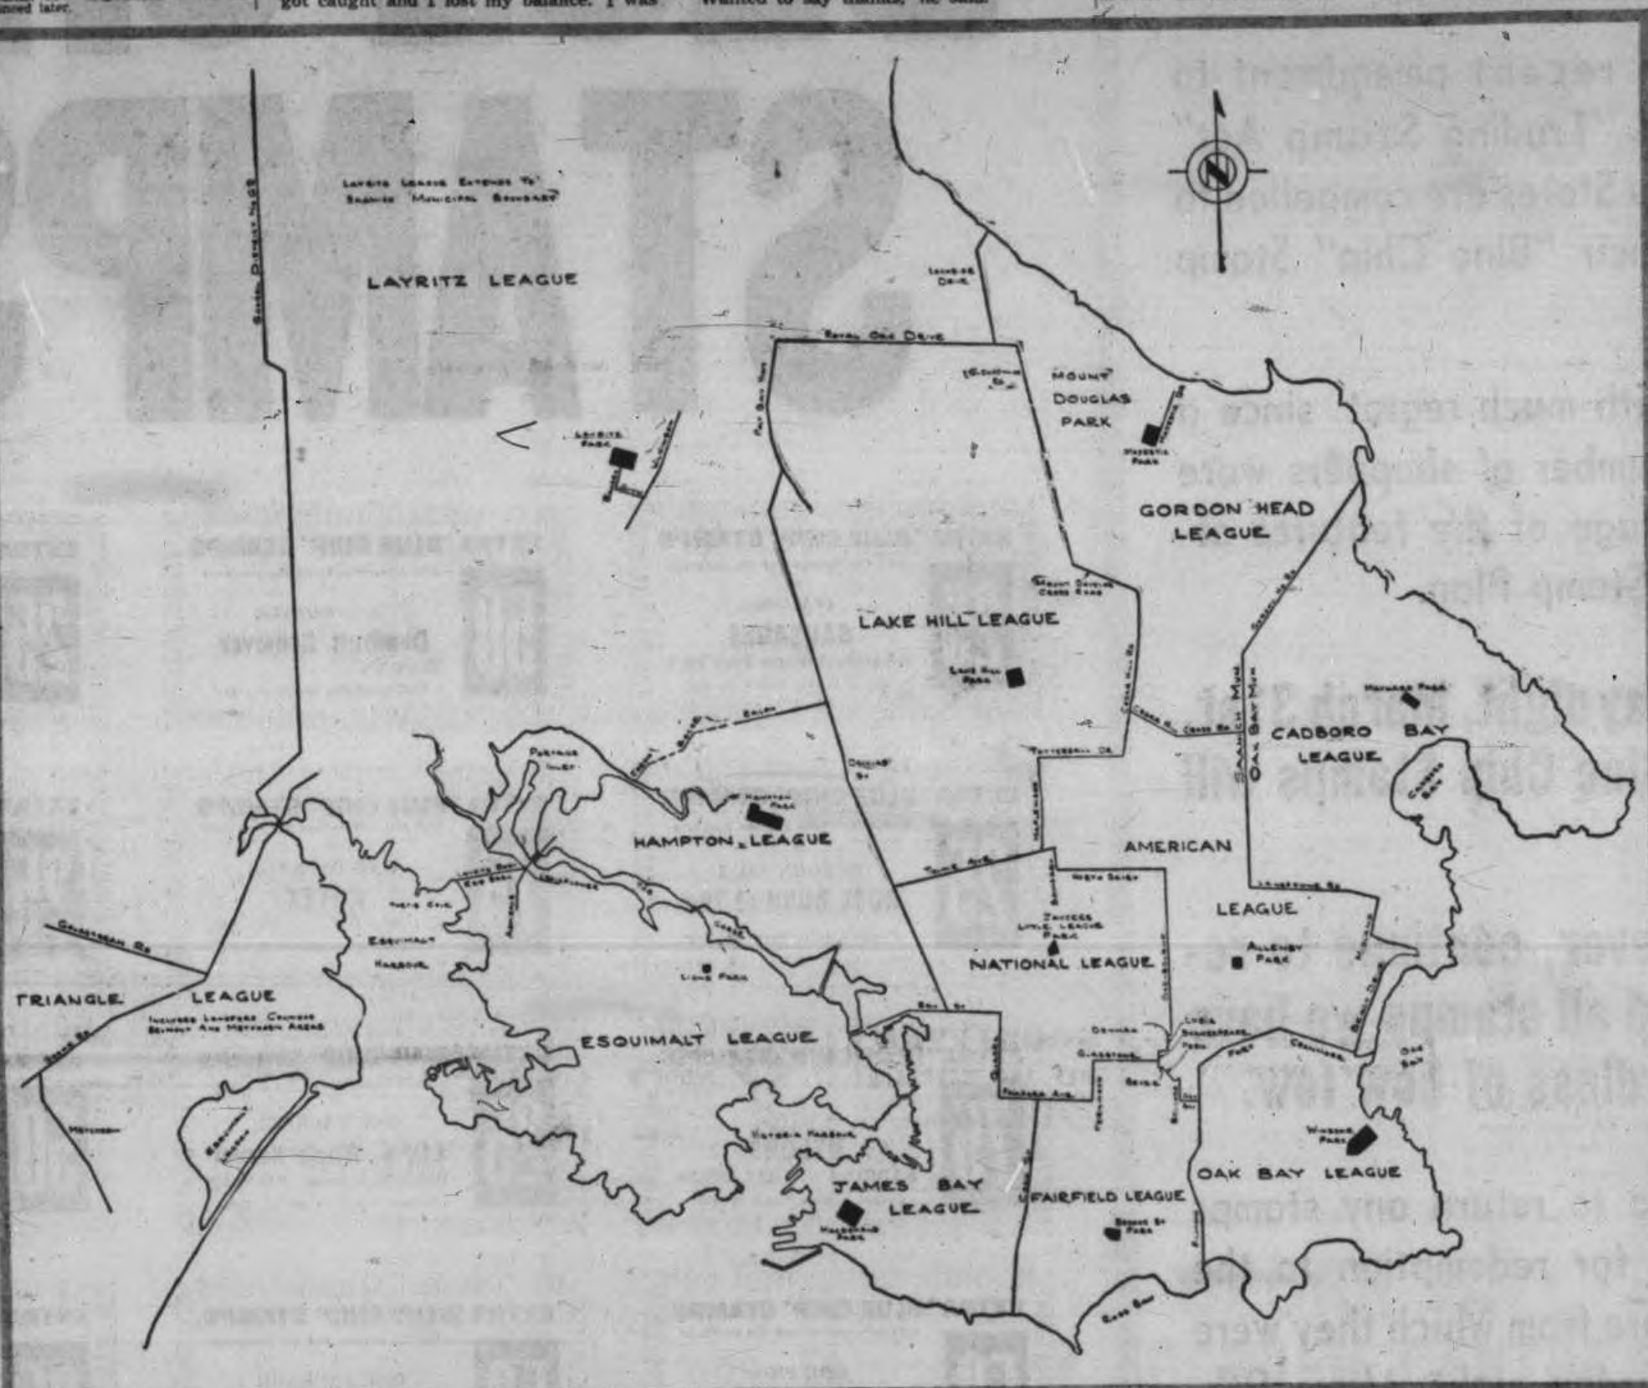

Roger Banks, 44, and Stu Barnard, 46, a Calgary twosome, also made a successful title defence in the veteran men's doubles for players 40 and older downing Dave Waddell of Ottawa and Montreal's Rupert Mee 11-15, 17-16, 15-9.

Vikings Come Back Snarling Tie Esquimalt Final Series

Victoria University Vikings, annoyed at insinuations they won the last game only because Navy was shorthanded, came from behind twice at the Sports Centre last night to beat the Sailors, 4-3, and tie the Esquimalt Hockey League best-of-five final at two games each.

When Vikings won, 9-1, last Tuesday, Navy had five players at sea. But the Sailors were at full strength last night, and were thoroughly outplayed. Vikings had 41 shots at Navy's Norm Jones, while Navy could get only 22 at Gord Grenier.

Ross Grenier scored the winner at 12.02 of the final period after Jack Blair had tied the score for Vikings. Cliff Russell and Jim Galbraith got the other Viking goals, with Russell also getting two assists.

Art Darmour, Roy Bird and Kent McLeod scored for the Sailors, who got two of their goals on power plays.

Moore's Victim Collapses

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Alejandro Lavorante of Argentina, carried from the ring on a stretcher after being knocked out in the 10th round of his fight with Archie Moore, revived enough later to give only this account of what had happened:

"I can't remember."

His manager, Pinky George, said Lavorante was suffering more from exhaustion than anything else. Medical tests will be given his fighter today.

It was the second time in less than a week that a fighter was taken by stretcher from a ring in a major match. Last Saturday the victim was Benny (Kid) Paret, who was knocked senseless and lost his world welterweight title to Emil Griffith.

When the fight was stopped, Lavorante was led to his corner by referee Tommy Hart after 37 seconds of the 10th and last round.

As Moore was receiving the cheers of the crowd, Lavorante suddenly collapsed and slumped to the floor from his stool.

Bonus Boy Beats Martin for Job

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Billy Martin, 11-year major league veteran, was handed his unconditional release Friday by Minnesota Twins.

The Twins offered the 33-year-old infielder a job as a roving scout of major league clubs. Martin said he wanted to discuss the offer with his wife before making a final decision.

Martin came to camp with the second base job virtually cinched but was pushed aside by rookie Bernie Allen, a $50,000 bonus player from Purdue University.

NEW YORK (AP)—For the sixth straight day, boxer Benny (Kid) Paret remained unconscious with his condition still critical. An afternoon bulletin from Roosevelt Hospital reported Friday there was "no change."

"He is still in a moderate coma," the bulletin said.

The 25-year-old Cuban suffered a savage beating at the hands of Emile Griffith in Madison Square Garden last Saturday night. Griffith knocked out Paret in the 12th round, hammering him into unconsciousness with a torrent of blows, causing brain damage.

MUCH BETTER

Paret's wife Lucy, maintaining vigil at the hospital, said her husband "looks much better to me today."

She said his eyes were open and "when the man screams, The Kid shakes his head and blinks his eyes." "The man" is another patient in a bed near the injured fighter.

MOTHER ARRIVES

Meanwhile, Paret's mother, Mrs. Maxima Crespo, arrived in Miami by plane from Havana. Mrs. Crespo—penniless, lonely and weeping—had a ticket only to Miami. No one met the fighter's mother at the airport on her first trip to the United States.

Mrs. Crespo, who does not speak English, appeared slightly bewildered. Newspaper men and airline employees took her in hand.

A National Catholic Relief Service representative bought Mrs. Crespo a ticket on an airliner for New York and gave her $10.

Paret's mother was given a note written in English, which said: "Take me to Roosevelt Hospital where my son is. He is Kid Paret."

Dundee to U.S.

DUNDEE, Scotland (Reuters)—The Dundee soccer club, near the top of the Scottish League, will compete in the United States International League tournament this summer, it was anounced Friday.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The grandstand and clubhouse at Aqueduct race track cover seven acres with 1,000,000 square feet of floor space on four levels.

THE PALMER METHOD

My left hand guides every putt; my right hand provides power. I reason that since the left hand leads the shot, it should direct it. The right hand is the stronger, so it should provide power.

I use the back of my left hand as the focal point in putting. At address, I want to face the intended line squarely. It shouldn't move from this point at any time during the stroke.

Don't let the left wrist break at any time, even in the follow-through. Bring the clubhead back by using the right wrist -- let it do the breaking.

A good way to maintain this left wrist position is to concentrate on keeping as straight a line as possible down the outside of the shaft.

No Longer Measles

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

In the past, I have always contended the easiest of all flowers to grow is the gladiolus. I still think it is the most rewarding, but growing glads isn't quite as simple nowadays as it was a few years ago.

For one thing, the thrips are everywhere now. At one time thrips were an occasional visitation, like measles or chicken pox, and if you were unlucky enough to suffer an attack, you girded your loins and fought the little blighters with your favorite bug poison. Nowadays, unless you maintain a constant protective treatment, you can be quite sure your flowers will be chewed up and the typical squarish patches of damage will show up on the foliage.

* * *

You hardly ever see thrips, for they are such very tiny insects, hardly a thirtieth of an inch long. As small as they are, it hardly seems possible they could do so much damage, but they seem to scrape away the outer layer of skin on the leaves and petals. While they will go for roses, peonies and onions, they seem to favor especially the plants with parallel-veined leaves, like gladiolus and plantain lilies and iris.

The recommended treatment for thrips is to spray the plants every 10 days all through the growing season with DDT or Malathion. This is effective but it is quite a chore, you find yourself spending most of your gardening time mixing potent brews and pumping up the pressure in the spray tank. Dusting is less work and I think it is more effective on gladiolus, for the glad foliage has a waxy "bloom" that tends to shed a liquid spray. I find Rose Dust gives good protection to gladiolus, but it is still necessary to get out there and treat them every 10 days—oftener in showery weather.

* * *

As a lazy gardener, I am always looking for less laborious methods and, in thinking about the thrips problem, it seemed to me this is an ideal spot for a systemic insecticide. A systemic, in case the term is new to you, is a sort of booby trap for bugs; a poison which is taken up in the sap of the plant, rendering it lethal to any sap-sucking or leaf-chewing critter that samples it.

One advantage of a systemic insecticide is its long-lasting properties—an advantage only on non-edible plants, for a poisonous sap isn't exactly desirable in food crops. Another and even bigger advantage is the selective action of such an insecticide, poisoning only the bugs that are feeding upon your plants; the ladybird beetles and other friendly pest-eating insects are unharmed. The balance of nature is not seriously disturbed while our glads are protected.

Trouble is, the insecticides classified as systemic are poisons of the most virulent character and far too dangerous to have hanging around the house. Sodium selenate, for instance, is used by some commercial growers of African violets to render their plants bug-proof, but the workers use masks, goggles and protective rubber clothing while handling the stuff.

While the true systemic chemicals are not practicable for home use, it isn't generally realized a lot of our common and less dangerous insecticides are at least partially systemic in their action. Chlordane is one of these which is absorbed into the system of the treated plant, yet can be handled with safety.

A system of protection which is giving excellent results in our garden is to dust gladiolus bulbs before planting with five per cent chlordane dust, and give another light sprinkle of the stuff over the bulbs in their trench during the planting. Apparently, enough chlordane is taken up in the sap to do the job. Whether it kills the attacking thrips or whether it acts as a repellent I wouldn't know, but a patch of my glads so treated were left unsprayed all last summer and came through without any perceptible thrip damage.

Moon Gag Goes Sour

It was Winston Churchill, I believe, who remarked humorously 25 years ago that, if you gave the military their heads, they'd demand a base on the moon to keep the supply lines open to Mars. Well, it was a gag. Once. Pretty funny gag, too.

Not a gag any more. The other day, Dr. Edward Teller, whom the peace groups refer to as "the bad scientist," as opposed to, say, Dr. Linus Pauling, who they claim as "a good scientist," told the House Science and Astronautics Committee the United States "for its own security must gain control of the moon." I remember way back when Singapore was considered pretty far-flung as outposts go. (To protect the supply lines from Suez to Hong Kong, of course. And what good was it when war came?)

* * *

So the funny joke becomes a very unfunny and expensive reality. As far as the military goes, it's especially ominous because it wasn't the army which asked for a base on the moon; it was a scientist. This shows which way the wind is blowing and it's blowing very hard.

Sir Solly Zuckerman, the very witty British MP, has already suggested the military's role in missile warfare is becoming alarmingly peripheral. What, he asks, is the general's function? The missiles, after all, are designed by scientists; they're manufactured by civilians. They arrive at the missile sites with the destination already built into them. The decision to use them or not to use them is made by Congress and the president, all civilians.

* * *

So what's left for the generals? Well, there's the actual pushing of the button, of course. And that, you and I who served our time in the army (or navy, or wherever you were) know, must be done in a military manner. Thumb straight. Fingers neatly lined up. Elbows in. Tummy sucked in. Eyes front. And all that. It would be a damned shame if civilization perished by an unmilitary push of the button.

Still, sooner or later somebody is going to raise the question—do we really need all those expensive military establishments? What for? This is really what the B-70 (all right, RS-70) controversy is all about. Gen. Curtiss LeMay argues a pilot can make judgments a missile can't; that a manned bomber can turn around and fly home, which missiles can't. But really what he's saying is that, if they can do without the pilot, eventually they can do without LeMay, too.

* * *

In the bookstores, there's a rather surprising outbreak of new books about the First World War, that distant conflict, in which the Allied military leaders are made to look like utter chumps if not actual criminal lunatics. In the latest of these, The Donkeys, Alan Clark discloses two of British Marshal Douglas Haig's more boneheaded statements: "The machine-gun is a much overrated weapon. Two per battalion seems more than sufficient." And: "Artillery seems likely to be really effective only against raw troops." This was the man who led the British Expeditionary Force in France and threw away the flower of British youth, a whole generation of them, against German machine-guns and artillery.

It's books like that that dilute Gen. LeMay's argument that a manned plane has judgment that a missile hasn't. A missile, dumb as it is, couldn't be any dumber than that.

Hollywood Today — By Sheilah Graham

'Change Boxing Laws!'

HOLLYWOOD (NANA)—Jack Dempsey and I discussed the brutal beating suffered by Benny (Kid) Paret in his battle for the welterweight championship last week in New York. "Do you believe that boxing should be abolished?" I asked the ex-champ, who was the most popular fighter of his day. Jack didn't say no immediately, which surprised me. He thought a moment, then said, "Well, no." And then, emphatically: "But they should change the law, so that the manager can step in and stop the fight."

* * *

Jose Greco's nine-year-old son debuted last night in the Olivia De Havilland-Henry Fonda play Gift of Time.

* * *

Charles Laughton is magnificent as the crotchety southern senator in Advise and Consent. I enjoyed the picture, but can't understand why star Henry Fonda played such a small part. . . . Otto Preminger and A C author Allen Drury, by the way, are planning to film his new book which deals explosively with the United Nations.

* * *

June Havoc tells me all the cats in the New York delicatessens have been fired, which makes them the new minority group, wouldn't you say? . . . I called Diana Dors but was told by the operator that her line was "dizzy." Could be.

* * *

Robert Preston, with time on his hands because of the folding of his We Take the Town play, will take off for Greece to star for Morton da Costa in his next movie. . . . Preston's Music Man movie will be a July 4th firecracker at New York's Radio City Music Hall.

* * *

Carol Channing keeps her long eyelashes in a diamond-encrusted case. It was a present from Mr. Marcus of Nieman-Marcus of Dallas, when Carol appeared at the store during her current tour.

* * *

Myrna Loy is preferring Hollywood for the premiere of her play, There Must Be a Pony, in the fall. Her Thin Man co-star of yore, William Powell, has promised to leave his beloved Palm Springs to cheer at her opening here, if and when.

* * *

Federico Fellini, the famed Italian director, has set up extra room in his house to hold the 83 awards he won for La Dolce Vita.

* * *

Intrepid Beulah Bondi has reached Greece, on her second trip around the world. She's doing the hills by mule. Beulah is a vibrant example that growing older does not mean having less fun.

* * *

The Duke of Windsor, who objected to being portrayed in a TV series, will co-operate in every way for the movie version of his autobiography, A King's Story. It would be interesting to have him appear the way he is today. And the thought is not so far-fetched, what with Her Serene Highness Grace Kelly of Monaco returning to moviemaking in Hollywood.

Into Wild Jet Yonder

They Still Meet Bogeys But Roger's Cut to Size

By DAVE McINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP) — "Climb gate to angels 40 holding hands."

Translated, this jet jargon of RCAF and North American Air Defence Commands means "climb at full power to 40,000 feet in close formation."

The language of the sky hasn't changed a great deal since the Second World War and many of the words used in the Battle of Britain survive to this day. For instance, "bogey" is still an unidentified plane, "bandit" a hostile aircraft.

* * *

But new words have had to be introduced to meet the challenge posed by new electronic marvels of air defence. For instance, "dolly" means the electronic computer by which pilots receive visual commands from the ground controller.

Other expressions, a mixture of old and new, include:

The oranges are sweet (the weather's good); no joy (can't find target); Judy (air-borne radar); pigeons (direction and distance home); chickens (interceptors); buster (top speed); splash (shoot down); pancake (land); and home plate (base).

* * *

The object of the code is to keep radio messages brief. Incidentally, don't breathe a word about all this. RCAF manuals say the code is secret though much of it has been familiar to the public for 20 years or more through movies, documentary films and the like.

If Anyone Was Listening, He Never Called Back

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Man has tried to communicate with other solar systems. Not surprisingly, he did not get anywhere.

Sometime another attempt will be made. But for the moment at least, more research is necessary.

In April, 1960, scientists at the national radio astronomy laboratory at Green Bank, W. Va., aimed an 85-foot antenna on two sun-like stars, Tau Ceti and Epsilon Eridani. This radio listening project did not turn up anything the scientists thought was a message.

* * *

Therefore, a group of scientists met privately at Green Bank last November to consider what to do next. They decided not to promote any more radio listening projects until they had pursued research to determine:

- What nearby stars, by the astronomical evidence, might be assumed to have a family of planets worth aiming at.
- Whether extraterrestrial life exists in our own solar-systems.

Studies already in progress may establish the existence of planetary systems within radio "shouting distance" of the earth.

Meanwhile, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is launching programs to find out whether life exists on such immediate neighbors of earth as Mars and Venus.

* * *

As Dr. Homer Newell of NASA recently told Congress, the other planets of our sun do not all appear sympathetic to living things.

"Yet," he said, "there may be life out there, perhaps on Mars. There may be havens out there where some forms of earth life can survive."

If space science establishes Dr. Newell is right, and if orbiting or lunar observatories prove existence of planets elsewhere in starry space, new attempts may be expected to establish communication with distant civilizations.

* * *

Scientists long have been arguing about what messages should be aimed across the void of space to other peoples. Television pictures have been suggested—because "pictures are a universal language." Other scientists have proposed transmission of universal constants, such as a value for Pi, without which nobody can fiddle confidently with a circle.

Since man is only in the infancy of inter-world communications, Su-Shu Huang has suggested a sort of cosmic baby talk for the first messages. He proposed a sequence of numbers: 1, 2, 3, 4, etc.

* * *

This sort of thing had been going on for some time. Many scientists have suggested it might not be a good idea to let a superior race know we exist. Such a people might look upon human beings as "a tasty kind of beef."

Another scientist—and this joke is as old as the subject it deals with—recommended that the first message from earth to cosmos should be a stark four-letter word: h e l p.

Scientists do believe there are other civilizations out there. Dr. Harlow Shapley of Harvard: it is "perfectly ridiculous" to suppose that planet No. 3 of the solar system is the only life-harboring globe among the many billions of planets in the universe.

* * *

Do these other planets really exist? Dr. Otto Struve, until recently head of the national radio astronomy observatory at Green Bank, says they do, and adds: "I believe that all astronomers share this view."

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of the Jodrell bank radio observatory in England, said there is warrant for belief in "communities elsewhere in the cosmos."

* * *

Even if man could travel at the speed of light, 186,300 miles a second, it would take 4½ years to reach the nearest star—and astronomers doubt this star has habitable planets.

In any case, there is no reason to believe man ever can travel safely at the speed of light or at any velocity approaching it. For one thing, radiation problems at such speeds would be insuperable.

* * *

At the pace of present-day space satellites, it would take hundreds of thousands of years to traverse the distance between the earth and the nearest star, Tau Ceti, which might support an intelligent civilization.

But radio waves rush through space at the pace of 186,300 miles a second.

"So," said Dr. Su-Shu Huang, "there is some chance that we may one day converse with our cosmic brethren."

But "the chance of shaking hands with them in the near future," he said, "seems rather remote."

$3,000,000 For Toll Authority

Subsidies totalling almost $3,000,000 will be paid B.C.'s toll bridges and ferries systems.

The subsidies, authorized by provincial cabinet yesterday, represent 2½ per cent of the indebtedness of the toll structures.

The indebtedness of the facilities now totals $117,207,700 including $36,000,000 for the B.C. government ferries running between Vancouver Island and the mainland.

Williston Adds New Portfolio

Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston was officially sworn in as minister of lands, forests and water resources by Lieutenant-Governor George R. Pearkes yesterday morning.

The additional portfolio is the result of the creation of a department of the former water rights branch which Mr. Williston was also in charge of.

The department will have Arthur Paget as its deputy minister. Mr. Paget was formerly water rights comptroller.

No Option But Jail Victoria Driver Told

A three-time offender was sentenced to 21 days in jail yesterday for driving while faculties were impaired by alcohol.

Magistrate William Ostler told Richard C. Hamilton he had no option but to send him to jail.

City prosecutor Angus Smith recited a list of driving offences that included a conviction for impaired driving in 1954 and another for driving while intoxicated, in 1931.

Two Victoria citizens and two business firms were fined in city police court yesterday for failing to file 1960 income tax returns.

Assessed the minimum fine of $25 and $3.50 costs each by Magistrate William Ostler were John C. Halliday, 3927 Cadboro Bay Road, Madelaine Parker, 710 Fort Street, Consolidated Food Service, Ltd., 1115 Yates Street, and Sweetheart Florists, 1801 Fort.

Pettersen Heads Student Council

Student council elections were completed yesterday at Victoria University. Eight of the 11 offices were filled by acclamation.

New president is third-year education student Alfred Petterson, formerly the council's vice-president.

Elected to office Friday were Ellery Littleton, men's undergraduate society president; Brian Ralph, student union building director, and Joan Dunn, women's athletics.

Elected by acclamation were Jack May, vice-president; Catherine Hatch, women's undergraduate society president; Connie Ballum, secretary; Vicki Drader, clubs director; Jim Taylor, treasurer; Lorne Priestly, special events chairman; and Brian Gornall, men's athletics.

Don Shea, editor-in-chief of the student newspaper, The Martlet, will be next year's director of publications.

The new council members will take office April 4.

Only Four Indians Stay For Hospital Treatment

FORT NELSON (CP)—A doctor here who found "incredibly dirty" conditions on an Indian reserve and later diagnosed 45 cases of infectious hepatitis in members of the band, said Friday all but four young males had left hospital.

Dr. Ray March, whose criticisms of conditions at the Prophet River Reserve, 650 miles northeast of Vancouver reached the House of Commons, said "three of the boys just took off" early Friday, leaving four, who probably would do the same today.

"They'll feel pretty weak for a while," the doctor said. "But they couldn't stand being cooped up. They left against my advice."

Dr. March discovered the hepatitis outbreak 10 days ago during a routine call at Prophet River.

"The Indians were lying on the floors of the wood and paper shacks they live in. They were sick and virtually starving," he said.

Dr. March's charge of neglect reached the House of Commons in Ottawa Thursday.

Jack Pickersgill (L—Bonavista-Twillingate) said the charge against the government was given him by Robert Angus, editor of the Fort Nelson News, on behalf of the chamber of commerce.

No Shelters For Schools

OTTAWA (CP)—The Ottawa public school board has decided against including fall-out shelters in two new schools on the grounds they would be too costly and not practical enough. The shelters would have added an estimated $165,000 to the $580,000 cost of the two buildings.

Clearing Set

Crackdown On Blight Approved

Chinatown Mall Included in Plans

The provincial government has given approval in principle to city council's plans to clear and redevelop 28 acres of "blighted" property southeast of the Fountain Circle.

This was announced yesterday following a meeting between city, provincial and federal officials.

Plans for rehabilitation of Victoria's Chinatown, including construction of a mall in the 500 block of Fisgard Street were also approved.

Application will soon be made to the federal government for its approval in principle of the two schemes.

The joint meeting was held in the legislative buildings yesterday afternoon.

Mayor R. B. Wilson, Ald. A. W. Toone, Ald. Michael Griffin, city manager C. C. Wyatt, city engineer James Garnett and Anthony Roberts, director of the Capital Region Planning Board, represented city council at the meeting.

Provincial housing commissioner J. Everet Brown, represented the provincial government, and the federal government was represented by C. J. Dowling, manager of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation in Victoria, and other CMHC officials.

A third civic betterment project proposed by city council—rehabilitation of Victoria West by closing some minor streets and making them parklike pedestrian walks—will be carried out without the help of either the provincial or federal governments.

Canary Suffocates In Apartment Fire

A canary suffocated in a fire that started in a chesterfield at the apartment of Mrs. Mary Smith, 1429 Vining, at 2 p.m. yesterday.

Flames spread up a wall before they were quelled by city firemen. Mrs. Smith was away from home. Damage is estimated at close to $1,000.

Official Landmark Now

Lit Water Tower Will Be Part Of Survey Maps

Switch-On Monday

Victoria's floodlit water tower—dressed to represent a centennial candle this year—will be included on hydrographic survey maps in future as a landmark for mariners.

City planner Roderick Clack said yesterday officials of the hydrographic survey branch of the federal government were impressed by the brightly-lit tower when floodlights were briefly tested earlier this week.

PRESS SWITCH

Official switching-on of floodlights on the tower and at Craigdarroch Castle will take place at 8.45 p.m. Monday. Mayor R. B. Wilson will press a switch on the veranda of the castle to light the buildings.

Best vantage point for spectators is on Yates Street between Blanshard and Cook. Both the castle and the water tower can be seen from that area.

NEXT STAGE

Next stage in Victoria's street decoration program for the centennial year will begin next week—the hanging of 110 Union Jacks and Canadian Red Ensigns from lighting poles on Government, Yates and Fort Streets.

Rescued from Water

Police and neighbors help to load 78-year-old Edward Fowlie, 3052 Admirals Road, on stretcher after he was rescued from muddy waters of small bay at rear of his home yesterday. He suffered exhaustion and shock and was reported in fair condition in St. Joseph's Hospital. Rescuers Frank Ivatt, 2898 Glenwood, and W. Findlay, 926 Westing, spotted elderly man floating face up in water. Incoherent when pulled from water, he told police he slipped in while walking along shore. Trapped by mud, he slogged across bay but fell about 25 feet from shore. Mr. Findlay tossed him rope and pulled him to safety.—(Colonist photo.)

Industry Not Trying?

Victoria's industrial development committee feels local industry is not making every possible effort to obtain contracts in this area, Ald. A. W. Toone said last night.

"Major contracts in this area should be handled by local contractors and local subtrades," he said.

Ald. Toone is chairman of the committee.

"The people letting contracts should make every effort to alert and encourage local bids. Victoria industry should be supported by buying Victoria-made goods where possible."

Ald. Toone said the committee will watch the letting of local contracts and will make inquiries if local contractors do not get them.

He added the committee — formed by city council — will seek the backing of Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt in order to function effectively over the whole of the Greater Victoria area.

Peace Drive Has $21,000

Canadian Peace Research Committee's Victoria residential canvass has collected $21,000 of its doubled quota of $25,000, campaign headquarter said yesterday.

Among the gifts pouring in was a donation from the 1st Sidney Company, Girl Guides and $85 from a small group of young East Indians living in Victoria.

Youth's Fingers Cut in Mower

John Walczak, 19, of 541 Dupplin, suffered bad cuts to the second and third fingers of one hand yesterday when a power mower started as he was trying to fix a mechanical defect.

He was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital and released.

City Cartage Firm Sold for $1,000,000

A Victoria cartage firm that began business with a horse and wagon 70 years ago and grew into a major Canadian concern, has been sold for almost $1,000,000.

Sale of Heaney Cartage and Storage Ltd. to Johnston Terminals Ltd. of Vancouver, biggest cartage and storage firm in Canada, was announced yesterday by William Heaney, majority shareholder of the family firm established in 1890.

"The firm will carry on here under its present name and as a separate entity," said Mr. Heaney.

The firm employs about 140 persons.

"The operation will go on as it is doing now with some assistance," said Roland Mantell, general manager of Johnston Terminals. "We look on this as an important expansion of our business. The new ferry service has brought Vancouver and Victoria very close and has greatly increased the demand for distribution service."

FEW YEARS AGO

Johnston Terminals already has warehousing facilities in the city. These were acquired when the Vancouver firm bought out Manning Lumber a few years ago.

Mr. Heaney will continue as a director and will join the board of Johnston Terminals. Robert McKenzie, manager of Heaney's, will carry on as general manager. He has been with the firm for 31 years.

SEVEN WAREHOUSES

The Victoria company owns seven warehouses and shops on six properties, 78 vehicles ranging from escort cars to giant tractors, 25 semi-trailers and five mobile cranes, ranging up to 25 tons in size.

The Johnston firm before the sale employed 650 workers and operated 450 vehicles as far east as Winnipeg.

PACK TRAIN

The Victoria firm was founded by Joseph Heaney who also ran a pack train of horses to Dawson City to supply gold rush miners with food. By 1912 it had grown to 50 horses and 25 wagons and three stables. It bought its first truck about the end of the First World War.

After Joseph Heaney died in 1921, the firm was operated by his brother, George. After his uncle died, William took over direction of the firm in 1930.

The firm now operates a daily freight service from Victoria to Vancouver and Campbell River.

First-Class Restaurant Planned in Dingle House

With the emphasis apparently on tourist trade in Greater Victoria's restaurant business, Victorians can look forward to a brand new cafe which is gearing its services to cater to local gourmets.

A $45,000 renovation job that will convert the old Dingle house on the 10-acre Redwood Lodge property to a first-class restaurant is expected to be completed by May 1.

Redwood Lodge, contrary to a report Friday, is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Armson.

LODGE BOUGHT

The lodge was purchased from Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Nordal last February for $400,000, Mr. Armson said yesterday.

No announcement was made at the time.

The new owners immediately launched the renovation project on the Dingle house, which, when completed, will feature a Victorian decor, replete with crystal chandeliers, said Mr. Armson.

"We intend to maintain reasonable prices to attract local business. The operation will be aimed at providing a family atmosphere in an attractive setting," he said.

The restaurant will have a seating capacity of 80 and will be operated in conjunction with the Lodge, he added.

AMPLE ROOM

"With 10 acres of property, we have ample room for further expansion," said Mr. Armson.

Mr. and Mrs. Armson sold their restaurant at Trail, B.C., which was rated among the best in Canada by travel agencies, after the purchase of Redwood Lodge was completed.

They had been in business at Trail for 17 years.

KEEPS NAME

Mr. Armson said the new cafe would retain the name Dingle House.

"It is widely known by that name here and we felt it would be a shame to lose a name that has been associated with the city."

Agency Merger Revives Bus Franchise Problem

Merger of the B.C. Electric and B.C. Power Commission into the B.C. Hydro and Power Commission yesterday has revived the bus problem facing municipalities, Mayor R. B. Wilson said last night.

But, he indicated, Greater Victoria municipalities will wait for the new power authority to make the first move.

"They, no doubt, will be designating somebody to deal with Victoria and Vancouver on this," he said.

WORK CLOSELY

"I had a talk to Mayor Tom Alsbury in Vancouver yesterday and I am hopeful that Vancouver and Victoria will work closely in an exchange of information."

Mayor Wilson said the Greater Victoria intermunicipal transit committee is still seeking a qualified person to evaluate the bus system.

ONE EXPERT?

Asked if Victoria and Vancouver would both hire the one expert to evaluate both the Greater Victoria and the Greater Vancouver bus systems, he answered: "We will probably work quite closely with them."

High-Rise In Hearing

A public hearing on an application for rezoning on Dunsmuir Road for construction of a high-rise apartment will be held at 7.15 p.m. Monday in Esquimalt council chambers, before the regular meeting of council.

Oak Bay's council meeting at 8 p.m. Monday will be preceded at 7.45 by a public hearing on a bylaw covering licensing of kindergartens.

Mayor Asks City MLAs For Help in Lost Taxes

Mayor R. B. Wilson yesterday asked Victoria's three Social Credit MLAs to help in obtaining grants in lieu of taxes lost this year with the removal of B.C. Electric, B.C. Power Commission and Black Ball Ferry properties from the city tax roll.

"They were very sympathetic to our problem, and they hope to have an answer to it soon," Mayor Wilson said.

"The premier did say there would be a grant in lieu of taxes but he didn't say how much.

"Taxes for general purposes (lost to the city when the three properties were taken off the tax roll) amounts to a fair amount of money—$129,500."

$675 in Suits Disappears

A carton containing women's suits worth about $675 has disappeared in Victoria on its way from the manufacturer to a city department store.

A spokesman for Trans-Canada Air Lines told city police yesterday the carton, weighing about 28 pounds, was last seen on a ramp at the C & C terminal on Government Street.

It contained 25 women's suits, in varying colors, valued at about $27 each.

No Victims Of Drug Here

Medical and pharmaceutical spokesmen in Victoria expect no malformed babies here through use of a new withdrawn sedative called thalidomide, blamed for one such case in Winnipeg.

They noted that Victoria is not given to rushing into the use of new products, and thalidomide came on the Canadian market just a year ago.

It was said here solely as a sedative without any reference to its use in pregnancy.

Rustlers Sent To Jail

Two Sooke "cattle rustlers" were sentenced to prison terms in assize court yesterday.

Mr. Justice R. A. Wootton sentenced Hector McMillan Reid to three years in B.C. penitentiary and Robert Archibald Simpson to two years for stealing and slaughtering a 500-pound bull belonging to William Bremner Smith, Becher Bay.

Defence counsel James Proudfoot had pleaded for a fine or a suspended sentence. He said Simpson's small business "is the only way he keeps his wife and eight children."

"This crime was singularly nasty and brutal," said Lloyd McKenzie, crown counsel. "It showed a complete disregard for property that was owned by a working man."

Said Mr. Justice Wootton: "The owners of cattle must be protected from such depredations."

Jobless Total Down 241 In a Month

A total of 2,423 men was seeking work in Greater Victoria yesterday, a drop of 241 from the end of February and 1,214 from the same time a year ago.

National Employment service officials said employment conditions for women had improved slightly over last year, but the number still seeking work is 1,682.

Among the men, a spurt in spring construction accounted for most of the reduction in applicants.

Tourists Dying to See Real Native Canadians

Peter Bruton's NOTEBOOK

IN GOD WE TRUST: Perhaps he had nothing else to do, but for some reason Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau head William Hawkins has taken to bombarding me with letters—well, two in one day anyway.

Apparently he still feels what he once said on a television interview . . . that people like George L. Warren who took offence at Victoria being considered part of Vancouver were wasting their time in complaining.

Writes Bill: "What time and effort we have here is being devoted to such publicity as the spread in the National Geographic magazine (recommended reading for anyone) . . ." etc.

The way I read the National Geographic piece, it seemed more a publicity blurb for Bill Hawkins and Sam Laird than anything else, but perhaps that's beside the point.

Anyway, Bill has a problem which he wants to share.

"As long as you have taken such great personal interest in the operations of the publicity bureau, perhaps you'll be kind enough to advise us how best we may answer this inquiry received today," he writes in his second letter.

The inquiry: "My 11-year-old son and I plan on being in Victoria on April 23 and 24. We would like to make hotel reservations in a hotel that has a 'Canadian air.' In other words we would like to stay somewhere where there aren't too many American tourists.

"My son is learning about Canada in sixth grade now and it would be especially interesting to him to see real native Canadians in their daily living. It would also be interesting to me."

Maybe the prize for the person who comes up with the best idea to help this family should be tourist bureau commissioner. Apparently the present one doesn't know what to do.

A QUIET AFFAIR: The Social Credit government brags that it keeps the people informed.

It sure didn't keep the former B.C. Electric and B.C. Power Commission people here informed about yesterday's merger.

Officials in the two former agencies had to telephone the newspapers to see whether it was true the merger had indeed taken place!

It is understood not even Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, joint chairman of the new authority, knew before the cabinet order was released to the press.

The fact Dr. Keenleyside's salary was doubled to $40,000 must have been a pleasant shock.

* * *

SIGN IN PASSING: Rivalry between employees of the former B.C. Electric and B.C. Power Commission remains keen despite the merger of the two agencies.

The power commission has been working feverishly the past few days to complete a new "B.C. Hydro and Power Authority" sign ahead of the BCE.

The commission building sported the new sign late yesterday afternoon.

"We wanted to show the relative efficiency of the commission," said an official — somewhat proudly.

"Gosh," retorted someone from the BCE. "We didn't even think about that!"

For Lent—Potato Gnocchi in Italian Tomato Sauce

Mamma mia! Here's just the thing to spice up a meatless menu!

Serve feather-light little potato dumplings in a rosy tomato sauce that fairly sings of sunny Italy. Gnocchi is the name the Italians give these hearty little palate-pleasers. (When your family says, "Mmm, what's this?," you say, "No-chee.")

Instant mashed potatoes make this continental family favorite an easy dish to prepare. The more we become acquainted with handy, quick-to-fix instant potato flakes and granules, the more we appreciate what a real boon they are to today's busy homemaker. And, the more time we have to spend on the really creative, fun part of meal preparation.

When you bring on your instant potato gnocchi in its succulent, herb-seasoned sauce, serve with it a bowl of crisp, mixed salad greens—escarole, endive, and Boston lettuce—tossed in a commercial Italian dressing. For dessert, create your most delicious double fudge cake and put just a touch of rum flavoring in the frosting.

POTATO GNOCCHI

Three quarter of a cup chopped onion, ½ to ¾ teaspoon garlic powder, 1 tablespoon cooking oil or shortening, 1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, undrained, 1 can (8 ounce) tomato sauce, 1 beef bouillon cube, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon oregano, ½ teaspoon basil, 1½ teaspoons sugar, 1 envelope or 1 3¼ ounce compartment instant mashed potatoes, 1 egg, slightly beaten, ¾ cup unsifted flour, 1 cup shredded Parmesan cheese.

Saute onion in oil or shortening until onion is soft, but not brown. Add tomatoes, garlic powder, tomato sauce, bouillon cube, ½ teaspoon salt, pepper, oregano, basil and sugar; mix well. Simmer to thicken slightly and blend flavors, about 30 minutes. Meanwhile prepare potatoes as directed on package, except reduce water by ¼ cup. Beat in egg and remaining ½ teaspoon salt. Cool slightly. Add flour and blend well.

Knead on floured board until smooth. Divide dough into 4 parts. Shape each into a long roll ¾ inch in diameter; cut into 1½ inch lengths. Drop about ¼ of dough at one time into large pan of boiling salted water. Cook until firm, 3 to 4 minutes. Remove from water, drain, and keep warm until all of the pieces are cooked. Add ½ of sauce and ½ of cheese to cooked potato pieces; mix carefully. Pour into heated serving dish; top with remaining sauce and cheese. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Readers: Recently a disenchanted husband who signed himself "Just a Boob" asked me to print his letter as a warning to other young fellows.

His wife's family lived like pigs, he said. They never sat at a table for meals—just walked around eating out of cartons and tin cans. Nothing in the house was ever repaired. The furniture was falling apart and the cracks in the walls and ceilings were a disgrace.

In closing he expressed the conviction that girls imitate their mothers and he suggested that a young man look at his fiance's surroundings as a preview of what his home will be like.

Since then, I've received a deluge of angry mail. The following writer requested "equal time" and I am delighted to give it.

Dear Ann: The letter from "Just a Boob" caused me great anxiety and opened up old wounds.

You see, Ann, I was brought up in much the same environment he described. When I visited the homes of friends I noticed the difference between their orderly well-kept rooms and our miserable dump. By the time I was 13 I was so ashamed of the way we lived I wouldn't invite anyone over.

When I began to date I always tried to be picked up at a girl friend's house. When it couldn't be arranged, I'd meet the fellow at the front door and whisk him away before he could see the dilapidated furniture and the ragged, filthy curtains.

Today I'm married to a wonderful man. We have three children and a beautiful home. It's as different from my mother's house as sterling silver is from chrome.

I agree, Ann, environment is important, but people can and do rise above it. And those who do, deserve credit. —MARY.

Dear Ann: I'm glad I didn't see "Boob's" letter five years ago. It might have influenced me and I might have passed up a wonderful girl.

The house he described sounded exactly like the one my wife came from. But I had faith in her. I knew she hated her environment and I knew, too, that when she got out of those terrible surroundings she'd do just the opposite.

My faith paid off. My wife is everything her mother isn't. Our home is lovely. The meals are tasty and beautifully served. It isn't true that every girl turns out to be just like the girl who married dear old father-in-law. — LUCKY PIERRE.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann: I'm a "Boob," too, but a different kind.

My wife came from the most immaculate home in town. Her mother used to empty the ash tray before I finished the cigarette. Their house wasn't merely clean, it was positively sterile.

My wife and her mother never got along. Her mother was a driven perfectionist whose emphasis was on all the wrong things. My wife swore she'd be different.

Well, she is. Our home is unbelievable — no meals, no clean laundry, beds never made, just a plain mess.

I never would have believed this could happen but it did, and I am—ALSO STUCK.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann: So "Just A Boob" advises young men to look at the homes the girls come from before they marry—well, I'd like to suggest that the girls look at the young men's homes. It may give her an idea of what she'll have to put up with.

My husband's mother is a slob and he is a carbon copy of her. Everything goes on the floor—socks, shorts, ties, damp towels. He puts cigar butts in the dinner plates and wet glasses on mahogany tables. He never hangs up a suit-coat or puts anything away.

He is more work than our three kids. So, girls, if you want to know what your husband is going to be like after marriage—go look at his mother.—24-HOUR DUTY.

So—dear readers, a small, limp, wet noodle for generalizing. There are indeed exceptions and I think every one of them must have written.

Easy Does It with WIN PACKER

We wish to thank Mrs. H. B. for these valuable hemming tips, for she writes:

I always use bobby pins instead of ordinary pins when turning up a hem. They clip the material firmly in place and can be slipped off easily when making adjustments without marking the material as pins sometimes do.

To turn up a hem I use a piece of cardboard cut to the exact depth of the hem and slip this along under the turned-up material for an accurate measurement. It's much quicker and easier than using a tape measure every few inches.

I'm sure many of our homesewers will appreciate these suggestions, Mrs. H. B.

TV Won't Replace Canada's Teachers

TORONTO (CP) — Television instruction will not replace teachers, according to a report released here.

The report by the Toronto Board of Education's education centre library, says there is no significant difference between the effectiveness of television teaching and face-to-face instruction.

However, it suggests television might increase the attention of students because of its novelty.

The 119-page report is a summary of studies made by observers in various parts of the United States, where television was first used in schools 10 years ago.

Swim Your Way to Beauty

TORONTO (TNS) — Have you ever considered swimming yourself to beauty?

Not the kind of hard-training, arm-thrashing competitive type of swimming that could result in bulgy muscles.

But a graceful, lyrical type of swimming . . . you know, a la Esther Williams.

Also from Galitzine of Rome is this knitted beach outfit. An all-in-one sunsuit is turquoise with white belted midriff, outlined in a fine tuck-stitch. Horizontal knitted tucks in white provide color and texture contrast for the three-quarter sleeves and fingertip jacket.

It's called synchronized swimming, a sport that is gaining in popularity across Canada.

IT'S IDEAL

"It's an ideal sport for girls," says Mrs. Margery Warren, treasurer of the Amateur Synchronized Swimming Association of Canada.

"It's the only sport I know of in which being a girl is an advantage. It develops femininity."

Synchronized swimming—in which girls make like mermaids in time to music—is indeed a smooth-gliding route to physical fitness.

"It develops rhythm, grace, poise, and good competitive spirit," Mrs. Warren enthuses.

"You don't end up with shoulders like a football lineman. A smooth, flowing body line develops."

Mrs. Warren—herself a trim example of her teachings—thinks swimming (synchronized or not) is a wonderful overall body conditioner.

"Swimming is the easiest, most pleasant way of keeping in condition I know of," she adds.

"I'd advise women to swim in outdoor pools all winter to keep in shape. Swimming is good for every muscle."

Synchronized swimming teams from across Canada competed for the Dominion championships of the Amateur Synchronized Swimming Association in Toronto this month.

Quiet Wedding Ceremony Last Evening at Home

Last evening at the home of the bride's mother, Dr. J. L. W. McLean officiated at a quiet family wedding.

Miss Carol Ann Fletcher, daughter of Mrs. Mary L. Fletcher, 1330 Purcell Place, became the bride of Mr. Edward Clifford Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Lewis of Coombs, B.C.

Mr. Graham E. McCall gave the bride in marriage.

For her wedding, the bride wore a princess gown of lace over satin fashioned with full, short skirt, high, scalloped neckline, and lily point sleeves. A short veil was gathered to a band of rhinestones and sequins. White and yellow feathered carnations were in her cascade bouquet.

Mrs. Beverley Watson, the bride's sister, was only attendant, in a bell-skirted dress of blue peau de soie. A short veil gathered to a matching flower was her headdress, and she carried a bouquet of yellow and white carnations.

The groom had Mr. E. Smith of Parksville as his groomsman.

Plum blossoms and carnations decorated the home for the ceremony and reception which followed.

The newlyweds left for a trip through Washington, and when they return will live at 1171 Kings Road.

For travelling, the bride wore a black wool mohair walking suit with white and black accessories and a rose flowered hat.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Kilbey of Port Alberni; Mr. and Mrs. G. Bone, Mr. and Mrs. E. Smith, Parksville; Mrs. Kathrine Fletcher, Saskatoon, Sask.; Mr. and Mrs. G. Lewis, Nanaimo; Mr. and Mrs. W. Virrell and Mr. and Mrs. W. MacDonald, Coombs.

Period Costumes Worn by Speakers

Mrs. Ada Wasmuth in a gown of the era, spoke on the life of Queen Victoria recently at a public speaking study group at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Weston.

Mrs. Wasmuth's speech was a part of a program of historical sketches, and speakers were in appropriate costumes. Mrs. Hilda Clatworthy, in costume, gave a history of the Bride Ship, and Mrs. H. J. King, wearing a gown of the Gay 90's, spoke on the early days of Government House, then known as Cary Castle.

Other talks were on the life of Sir James Douglas by Mr. Weston; Craigflower Farm, by Mr. E. A. Mockford, and the Wright Brothers, by Roy Hudson.

All speakers were from Miss Doris Bagshawe's studio. The program concluded with a talk entitled, "A Trip to the Moon."

Variety Concert

The Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion were hosts recently at a Variety Concert held in the DVA Hospital.

The concert was presented by Mrs. Dorothy Fairhurst, clubs mistress of ceremonies and there were 14 entertainers on the program.

Gifts of cigarettes, tobacco, cigars, candy and books were distributed among the veterans by members and friends of the club. All executive officers were in attendance.

New $85,000 Church Ready in Six Months

Ground will be broken Sunday at 3 p.m. for the start of construction of a $85,000 Lutheran Church at Carrick and Dean Streets. First sod will be turned by the pastor, Rev. L. M. Carlson, and members of the congregation. Construction will be completed in about six months.

The church has been three years in planning and preparation.

When completed in about six months, the church will seat 280, including those in the balcony. There will be eight classrooms and portable dividers to make six more classrooms available.

Also included will be a large assembly hall with a stage for social activities.

THE VOICE OF ONE

By REV. DR. FRANK S. MORLEY

"Where there is no vision, the people perish," said the wise writer of Proverbs. The young people of Canada need nothing more than a sense of national purpose. Thousands of youths drift today without goals. We desperately need clearly-cut national objectives which stand out in stark distinction to the statism and tyranny of Communism.

Toynbee contends that drift destroys civilizations. Drift also destroys character. Must we surrender our moral standards and social idealism? Is the democratic society the effective society? Can a free economic and political system adequately accelerate national growth, express social compassion, and build a floor of economic and employment security for our country? This is a basic moral and spiritual problem.

Surely it does us little good to solve our economic and political problems if we lose our character and destroy our spirit. No magic of government, no organization of politics or economics, no clever manipulation of society or educative process, can substitute for the stimulation of imaginative, intelligent, and morally-focussed men and women. The price of liberty is the virtue of the person.

The Communists are very clear about their techniques, goals, and faith. We must be equally clear. Men must feel that they share in the total process of a social, industrial, and political purpose. Without such intelligent participation their labor is slave labor, uninspired and resented drudgery.

Progress is not automatic and inevitable, despite the dogmas of Communist materialistic determinism. The future does not belong to the fearful but to those who have seen the vision and move resolutely forward to definite goals.

"CHRISTIANITY IN TRANSITION"
INTRODUCTION
"The Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life, and man became a living soul." Other significant passages in Scripture follow: "Thou shalt do no murder." "With all thy getting get understanding." "Blessed are the pure." "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was God." From the Crucifixion story: "My God, My God, Why hast thou forsaken me?"
Creative Intelligence has no plan to forsake or to scorch misguided humanity. The best way is to regard Mother Earth as dear to all. The transfer of sane self-rule to all mankind is assuredly in the Mind of Divine Providence.

TV TALK

By JIM TAYLOR

One of the offshoot benefits of major fund-raising drives is the variety show that usually kicks them off. Each time there is a collection of talent that couldn't be brought together at any price during regular TV programming.

Sunday night at 9, there is another one on channel 4. At This Very Moment is the inaugural program of Cancer Control Month, and in addition to a couple of unknowns named Kennedy and Johnson (a vaudeville team, perhaps?), there is an impressive list of guests.

Included are Bob Hope, Bobby Darin, Harry Belafonte, Connie Francis, the Kingston Trio, Edward G. Robinson, Lena Horne, Jack Paar and a dozen others.

Saturday's Highlights

8.00 p.m.—French pantomimist Marcel Marceau does two of his better-known routines—2.

10.30—Keyhole presents "A Day at the Dunes," in which a night-club operator shows the devices used to combat cheaters—4.

Winning Contract

By HOWARD SCHENKEN and RICHARD L. FREY

If you study the North-South hands only on the accompanying deal you will not find it easy to decide what the right final contract should be. Six no trump, six diamonds are all good spots with little to choose between them. In the World Championship Match against Great Britain, the North American pair were unlucky to land in the one slam which could not be made.

Vul: None	NORTH (D)
	♠ K Q
	♡ A K 6 3
	◊ A Q 7 2
	♣ A 9 6
WEST		EAST
♠ 10 8 7 5 2		♠ 9
♡ J 8 5		♡ Q 10 9 7 2
◊ J 9 6		◊ 10 4
♣ 10 3		♣ K J 7 4 2
	SOUTH
	♠ A J 6 4 3
	♡ 4
	◊ K 8 5 3
	♣ Q 8 5

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
2 N.T.	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
3 ♡	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	4 N.T.	Pass
5 ♠	Pass	6 ♠	All pass

Opening lead: ♡ 5

When North responded three hearts to South's Stayman three club bid he denied holding a spade suit. When South bid spades he was marked with at least a five-card suit, and North reasonably decided that his doubleton king-queen would be sufficient trump support. South had no hesitation in checking for aces and then bidding to six spades.

Provided the spades split no worse than four-two, six spades succeeds if the diamonds split three-two, or if the king of clubs is with East, or if a squeeze develops. Six no trump offers roughly the same chances, but six diamonds is perhaps slightly better than either. Declarer may be able to survive a four-one diamond break unless a club is led from the hand which has not got the king.

The American South, Von der Porten, made a good try for the contract in the face of the bad trump break. He then ruffed a heart, played his two remaining winning trumps, and crossed to the diamond ace. He then cashed dummy's remaining heart winner and continued with diamonds. If West had held the king of clubs he would have been forced to lead away from it at the twelfth trick. As it was the contract was down one.

When the hand was replayed the British North-South stopped pessimistically at three no trump, so that Great Britain had a lucky gain of 540, or 11 international match points.

With Japan

Churchill Warned Of War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ten months before Pearl Harbor British Prime Minister Churchill advised President Roosevelt "many drifting straws indicate Japan's intention to make war on us . . . in the next few weeks or months."

Churchill warned that the weight of the Japanese navy, if thrown against Britain, "would confront us with situations beyond the scope of our naval resources."

INSPIRE FEAR

The prime minister said some believed Japan would not hesitate to attempt to wage war against both Britain and the United States. While he felt the odds were against this, he said, "everything you can do to inspire the Japanese with fear of a double war may avert the danger."

The document was included in the release Tuesday of secret state department diplomatic papers on the Far East for 1941.

BEING PREPARED

The 938-page collection is part of a series on China and the Far East now in preparation, the state department said. A considerable mass of other diplomatic correspondence for 1941 previously had been published.

For months before the Pearl Harbor attack, U.S. diplomats and Allied diplomats in Bangkok, Singapore, the Dutch East Indies and Paris told Washington of the possibility of imminent Japanese attacks in these areas. None mentioned the likelihood of Pearl Harbor being hit.

Good Samaritan Sets Common Example In Selfish Parable

By ERNEST MARSHALL HOWSE

A Sunday school teacher took for her lesson the parable of the Good Samaritan. She told the story in vivid terms. She pictured the wounded man by the wayside. She described how the priest and the Levite looked on the man in need and passed by. She praised the poor Samaritan, who with simple compassion went to the suffering wayfarer, bound up his wounds, brought him to an inn and took care of him.

When she finished she asked her pupils, "What did you learn from this parable?"

"I learned," said a little boy promptly, "that when I am in trouble my neighbor ought to help me."

The incorrigible inclination to interpret everything in terms of personal advantage is not limited to small boys. And often it is not confined to human relationships. It envelops our thought of God himself. Much of modern religious thinking is in terms not of our devotion and service to God but of God's usefulness to us. And when religious thought is cast in such terms it is indeed missing its mark.

Distortion Displayed

The religion of ancient times, even the religion of the Old Testament, does, of course, continually display this distortion. To the ancient worshipper the nexus of his relation between himself and God was that if he served God, then God would make him prosper. All through the Old Testament the prime motive, and nearly always the only motive for serving God is that it pays off.

Of the righteous man it could confidently and properly be said that he would be "like a tree planted by the Rivers of Water" and that "whatsoever he did would prosper."

The favorite of God needed not to fear even the peril of battle. "A thousand shall fall at thy side and ten thousand at thy right hand—but it shall not come nigh thee."

The ancient idea, of course, was plausable because it contained an element of truth. Religion ought to minister to our comfort, poise, peace and happiness. It ought to prevent the distressed unquiet that is the mark of so many divided and disturbed spirits today. In one sense the ministry of religion ought to be a ministry of comfort. It can be so, if we realize that the highest comfort is power.

Handicap Not Removed

Paul, for example, prayed to have his "thorn in the flesh" removed. His handicap, whatever it was, was not removed. But he received the word, "My Grace is sufficient for thee." And he went on to the Apostolic boast "I can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth me."

The characteristic thought of the Old Testament, however, is that the object of prayer is to shield the one who prays from peril, and to reward him with such worldly prosperity as will make him the envy of his neighbors. The characteristic thought of Jesus is that the object of prayer is to learn the will of God, though it leads to Gethsemane. And the two ways of thinking are separated by a long sea mile.

Dr. Fosdick once said that the chief distinction between religious people was that some in their religion were chiefly concerned to make life easier and some were chiefly concerned to make life stronger.

The men in the great tradition of religion are not those whose religion has made life easy. From Christ to Kagawa, from St. Paul to Dr. Schweitzer, through a long series of illustrious lives, and many others unnamed and obscure, the men to whom religion has the deepest meaning are not those to whom it has brought comfort and peace and prosperity, but those to whom it has brought suffering and power.

Whisky Lil a Sight—But Historic?

OTTAWA (UPI)—If Arizona Charlie's Yukon gold-rush "theatre" can be an historic site, why not Joe Beef's Montreal tavern or the establishments run by certain ladies in B.C.'s Kootenay district?

This was the proposition made in the House of Commons yesterday when the federal government's plan to restore Arizona Charlie's place came under new criticism.

One MP said the Conservative government's "vision" of northern development, "from igloo to igloo," now went from "saloon to saloon."

Herbert Herridge (CCF-NDP—Kootenay West) said it was "most unfair" that his riding had missed out in the historic sites program. He urged that the policy be put "on a national scale."

Among some of the "historic sites" in his own area, Mr. Herridge mentioned establishments run by such famous pioneers as "Whisky Lil, Brimstone Annie, Broken Back Rae and Yukon Iola," and a place known as "Rosie Retreat."

Restoration of these and similar institutions would assist the tourist industry in the Kootenays, he added.

MP's Widow in Race For Biggest Riding

YELLOWKNIFE, N. W. T. (CP)—A woman is seeking the Liberal nomination in Canada's most widespread constituency in the next federal general election.

Mrs. Eleanor Hardie, a slight, 40-year-old native of Winnipeg, is a candidate for the Liberal nomination in Mackenzie. The riding in the Northwest Territories, established in 1953, was represented by her husband, Mervyn Hardie, at the time of his death last October. He had been elected in 1953 and re-elected in 1957 and 1958.

Largest federal riding in Canada with an area of 540,000 square miles, Mackenzie has a scattered population of fewer than 20,000.

Broadway Lauds Canadians

NEW YORK (CP)—The Long and the Short and the Tall, a war drama which came to New York via Toronto, opened Thursday at the off-Broadway Maidman Playhouse.

The all-male cast is headed by Canadian actor James Douglas and director Murray Davis. Critic Howard Taubman of The Times hailed the play.

No Smoking—Less Cancer

ABOARD EMPRESS OF ENGLAND (CP) — Cigarette smoking is an important factor in the cause of lung cancer and doctors should urge young people not to form the habit, a leading Toronto surgeon said yesterday.

"There is no shadow of doubt that certain people are susceptible and that the smoking of cigarettes is the important stimulating factor in the development of cancer," Dr. F. G. Kergin, professor of surgery at the University of Toronto, said in a paper presented to the sixth assembly of the College of General Practitioners of Canada.

LESS CANCER

"Putting it the other way, I am quite satisfied that if no one smoked cigarettes, there would be much less lung cancer."

Dr. Kergin noted that many of the doctors at the meeting, including himself, are habitual smokers.

"Perhaps in those of us who are middle - aged or more, it does not matter too much. We should, however, use all the influence of which we are capable to dissuade young people from taking up this habit."

Lung cancer has become by a wide margin the most important cause of death from cancer in male patients in Ontario in 1959.

Fluoridation Barred In Big Parks

OTTAWA (CP) — Water supplies in Banff and Jasper national parks will not be fluoridated as long as there is a public controversy over fluoridation, B. I. M. Strong, chief of the national parks service, said Friday.

He stressed that this does not imply a resources department policy against fluoridation but indicated that the decision applies to all national parks, although the question has been raised only in the Alberta mountain resorts.

He said that the resources department's decision was reached after requests for fluoridation were received from a group of peranent residents in Jasper.

Markets Drop Trade Stamps

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia's three trading stamp supermarket chains are dropping the idea.

All three say the scheme must go because of Bill 96, the recent amendment to the provincial Trading Stamps Act.

X MARKS THE SPOT where your advertising belongs—on a well-read, well-shopped page of the daily newspaper. The advertising on radio and TV, and to some extent in magazines, is an annoying interruption of the entertainment. But people read a daily newspaper primarily for news...and the advertising is accepted as shopping news. Research shows that three out of four housewives check the ads in the daily newspaper before making their main shopping trips of the week.* Don't you have something to tell housewives about your product or your store? Tell them here ...in the pages of this newspaper.

Son Would Jump Off a Cliff On Sect's Order

NELSON (CP)—A Sons of Freedom Doukhobor testified Friday if the fraternal council that governs the sect ordered it, he would jump off a cliff.

Paul T. Jmaeff, 21, charged with attempted arson, said in Assize Court:

"I am not guilty for what I did. Our prophecy says it is time to migrate from Canada through the jails. I strongly believe in the prophecy. For further evidence, ask the fraternal council."

Jmaeff answered in the affirmative when Crown Prosecutor George Murray asked if he would jump off a cliff if the council told him to.

"In other words, it's just blind obedience to the council?" asked the prosecutor.

"Oh, I don't know," replied Jmaeff. "Maybe we could call it that."

Jmaeff is one of three persons charged with attempting to burn a bridge near Slocan City, 30 miles northwest of here. The others are Alec L. Gritchen, 22, and Larry Saprikin, 24.

In a statement admitted as evidence, Jmaeff told of making a bomb which used a pocket watch and gasoline—common ingredients to bombs used by terrorists in the Kootenays over the years—plus flash bulbs filled with model airplane glue. The entire device was placed inside an automobile tire and placed under the wooden bridge.

RCMP Const. Peter Powdowski said the device did not explode because of the temperature.

Canadian Beaten In Congo

OTTAWA (UPI) — A Canadian army signals corporal serving with the United Nations' Congo operation is in good condition in Leopoldville Hospital after being attacked by a group of Congolese civilians, army headquarters said yesterday.

A spokesman said Cpl. Robert W. Sheets, 26, of Ottawa and Brantford, Ont., suffered multiple cuts and bruises to his forehead, abdomen and right leg during the March 25 attack on him.

The spokesman added it was civilian Congolese and not military personnel who attacked Sheets.

The spokesman said the latest incident raised to "about 20" the number of Canadian military personnel attacked in the Congo.

Low Tender For Hospital Passes Vote

Directors of Royal Jubilee Hospital voted Thursday night to recommend to the provincial government approval of the low tender of $202,785 for a psychiatric wing by Farmer Construction Ltd. A spokesman said no date can be set for start in construction of the 20-bed addition until the government approves award of the contract.

The hospital board of directors this week re-elected Ian Horne president and named two members to key posts. Joseph Casey becomes vice-president on retirement of Mayor R. B. Wilson; and I. C. Dinning takes over as honorary treasurer, a post held for the past 25 years by G. H. Stevens, who has retired from the board.

'Integration Slows Progress'

WINNIPEG (CP) — Manitoba home and school groups Friday were told integrated schools will not solve the problem of Indian education in the province. Leon Joubert, chairman of the Indian Education Committee told the annual meeting of the Manitoba Home and School and Parent Teacher Federation that "integration tends to slow progress and produce attitudes of inferiority."

Jail Waits For Forger After Trip

VANCOUVER (CP)—David Norman, 22, of Campbell River, was sentenced to one year definite and one year indeterminate after pleading guilty to obtaining $1,400 from his father's bank account with bad cheques. Norman went on a trip south on the money, then surrendered to police.

Aesthetic Schools Urged

BANFF, Alta. (CP) — A call for more "emotional appeal" in school buildings was made Thursday by a Lethbridge architect. G. R. Robins said school buildings should stimulate students' imaginations. He suggested less emphasis should be placed on physical comfort and more on aesthetic appeal.

'Haunted' Man Drops Dead After Fortnight of Freedom

PEMBROKE, Ont. (UPI) — Clifford O'Brien, 66, is dead two weeks after being acquitted of manslaughter in the death of a man which had haunted him for 43 years.

He was sitting on his bed in a local hotel when he complained of a pain in his stomach, gasped and went limp. He was dead by the time a doctor arrived.

O'Brien walked into a police station last year to explain the unexplained death of Michael Legge, 54, whose mangled body was found on CPR tracks in Pembroke July 8, 1919.

He testified Legge improperly accosted him on the tracks. He thought Legge a sex pervert and knocked him to the tracks.

There was evidence a train passed through Pembroke shortly after the incident, accounting for the mangled body.

After his acquittal O'Brien said: "I feel like a new man. Now I can walk down the street again."

A number of witnesses said the secret turned O'Brien to drink. He kept the secret until his parents and his wife died.

Long Wait on Ledge

Smile Lights April's Face After Rescue

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (UPI) — "I'll bet your name is April," the man said, "and I think you missed your supper."

The red-haired little girl, frightened, shivering and soaked with mud from a tumble down the wall of the Niagara gorge, began to smile.

Warm hug by parents after 11 hours on rocky ledge of Niagara River Gorge is enjoyed by April, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hubbard, Niagara Falls.

Thus three-year-old April Lynn Hubbard was rescued early yesterday from a ledge on the Canadian side of the Niagara gorge. She had huddled here, hearing the roar of the great waterfall and watching daylight turn to night, for 11 hours after falling into the gorge while playing with three other children.

MINOR BRUISES

April was in hospital for observation, but attendants said she suffered at most only minor bruises.

"She wasn't hurt at all," said her mother, Mrs. Harry Hubbard, 30, of Niagara Falls. "Just a few little wee bruises, and I'm not sure whether she got those falling or somewhere else."

WANDERED AWAY

April had wandered away from home with three playmates about 2 p.m. She was reported missing two hours later.

A four-year-old boy at first told police he had pushed her over the protective wall at the edge of the rocky gorge, but he changed his story several times.

SEARCH CONTINUED

The child was found about 2.30 a.m. by Richard Gorham, one o ffour men who continued the search after police suspended it because of darkness.

When Mrs. Hubbard entered the hospital room April said, "Mummy, I'm hungry."

Judgment Reserved In 'Bomb Scare' Case

Magistrate William Ostler reserved judgment yesterday on a "bomb scare" charge against Harold Thomson, 1214 Yates.

Thomson, 52, is charged in city police court with knowingly telephoning false information with intent to cause injury or alarm.

Defence counsel James Proudfoot moved for dismissal on grounds that the Crown had not proved that Thomson knew his information was false when he telephoned the Victoria office of Trans-Canada Air Lines to say he had been told there would be a bomb on an aircraft.

Mr. Proudfoot did not call the accused man to the witness stand.

"I think there is a case to meet," said the magistrate in rejecting the motion for dismissal.

Union Plans To Appeal Court Rule

WINNIPEG (CP) — Bill Kennedy, district secretary of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind), Friday said his union planned to appeal Mr. Justice Ralph Maybank's decision to dismiss a Mine - Mill application to quash a vote ordered to decide which of two unions will represent workers at Thompson, Man.

The Manitoba labor board had ordered the vote to take place among the 2,000 employees of the International Nickel Company at Thompson March 20-22.

The vote was intended to decide whether Mine-Mill would continue to represent the workers or whether the United Steelworkers of America (CLC), who claim to have support of more than required 50 per cent of workers, would take over as bargaining agent.

Union Talk, Raiding Coincide

TORONTO (CP)—The Mine-Mill union's first international convention in Canada concluded Friday, ending a five-day meeting that coincided with heavy raiding pressure from the rival Steelworkers.

The international union's executive will meet today behind closed doors.

About 200 delegates from Canada and the United States attended the meeting of hard-rock miners and processors with the emphasis on tribulations in Manitoba and Ontario from raiding and in the U.S. from raiding and latest allegations that the American wing is Communist-influenced.

No specific decisions affecting Canada flowed from the convention — the Canadian section meets separately each year to plot its course.

Ontario Told To Clear Meat Firms

TORONTO (UPI)—A Liberal MP said yesterday the Ontario government "owed it to the province's small meat packers" to make a public statement clearing them of all blame for the sale of tainted meat last year.

Farquhar Oliver, member for Grey South, said while it has never been officially suggested the small packers were responsible for the sale of hundreds of tons of the unfit meat, they were being held responsible by the public.

NEW POWER AUTHORITY TRIMS ELECTRIC RATES

Cutbacks Now In Effect

VANCOUVER Island householders can look forward to power rates cut from 11 to 60 per cent as a result of a new rate schedule announced yesterday by the new B.C. Hydro and Power Authority.

Rate reductions will be immediate.

The long-awaited new schedule is aimed at assisting the moderate user and the rural resident.

FIRST STEPS

Rate cuts apply only to the first two steps on the schedule—consumption of the first 100 and the second 200 kilowatt hours.

To obtain the percentage reductions cited in connection with the power authority announcement the consumer would have to use 300 kilowatt hours or less. An average amount of electricity used by a householder in one month is 300 kilowatts.

ISLAND CUTS

Percentage cuts based on 300 kilowatt hours consumption in Vancouver Island communities are:

- Victoria and environs 13 to 16 per cent.
- Alberni, Port Alberni, Comox, Campbell River, Nanaimo, eight to 11 per cent.
- Ucluelet 30 to 45 per cent.
- Port Hardy 53 to 60 per cent.

A Victoria area consumer using 300 kilowatt hours a month and paying approximately $16.10 under the old rate structure would save about $2.10 on the new scale.

10-15 PER CENT

Rate reductions on the Lower Mainland will range from 10 to 15 per cent for minimum residential users.

Farm consumers for the first time will be put on a par with householders for all electricity actually used for farm purposes. Previously farmers paid a slightly higher rate.

Legislation creating the new power authority melding B.C. Electric Co. Ltd. and the British Columbia Power Commission came into effect yesterday. (See story this page.)

The reductions were announced following a lengthy meeting between Premier Bennett and directors of the new authority in Vancouver.

SAVE MILLIONS

Mr. Bennett told reporters the reduction would save the people $5,500,000 annually on their light bills and in 10 years would cost the authority $70,000,000.

He said that this was only a beginning, that other reductions would be considered from time to time by the directors of the power authority.

GIANT CHEQUE

At the same time Premier Bennett announced that a cheque for $80,000,000 has been sent to the B.C. Power Corporation.

The government paid BCP $111,000,000 when it took over B.C. Electric last August. The $80,000,000 is to bring the final and fixed price paid by the government to $171,000,000 under legislation that provides it cannot be challenged in the courts.

The premier was asked repeatedly about the status of BCE but he declined to answer any questions concerning the court litigation.

'I DON'T HEAR YOU'

"I don't hear you," the premier said repeatedly as reporters pressed for details.

"What if B.C. Power Corporation refuses to accept the $80,000,000 cheque," one reporter asked.

Magna Pipeline To Extend Up-Island by '66

VANCOUVER (CP)—President Ralph K. Farris of Magna Pipe Line Company said Friday it is hoped the firm will have completed its natural gas pipeline to Vancouver Island by May, 1963.

Mr. Farris told the company's annual meeting he hopes next year's meeting will be a "turning on" ceremony.

UNWILLING TO SWITCH

Mr. Farris said completion of the pipeline by the end of 1962 was possible but not advisable since domestic users would be unwilling to convert their heating systems in mid-winter.

Magna will serve industrial users directly but will not itself provide retail distribution in urban areas.

VICTORIA-NANAIMO

The first stage of the Vancouver Island plan will serve the area from Victoria to Nanaimo. The second stage, to be completed by 1966, will extend the service to the Alberni, Campbell River, Elk Falls, Texada Island and Powell River on the mainland.

VIENTIANE (Reuters)—New fighting was reported Friday to have broken out in central Laos between Communist North Viet Nam troops and forces of the right-wing Laotian government.

National Armies Replaced by UN U.S. Geneva Plan

GENEVA (UPI)—The United States will submit to the Geneva disarmament conference a plan calling for elimination of national armies within nine years and their replacement by a United Nations force, reliable sources said yesterday.

The American plan is to be submitted to the 17-nation group to counter a Soviet draft treaty for general and complete disarmament within four years, introduced when the conference opened here two weeks ago.

UNDUE ADVANTAGE

The West complains that the Russian four-year plan gives the Russians an undue military advantage in the early stages and does not include specific and detailed proposals for international controls to insure each nation destroys its arms on schedule.

The American plan was said to include these precautions as well as a UN peace force to maintain international law and order as national defences are torn down. The Soviet plan omits any mention of a standing peace force.

NEED BLUEPRINT

At yesterday's session the Soviet tried to commit the United States to total disarmament within four years but American negotiator Arthur Dean told Soviet delegate Valerin Zorin "You cannot build a house without a blueprint."

Dean proposed instead the 17-nation group set up subcommittees to consider such specific problems as how to end nuclear weapons production, how to destroy or reduce nuclear delivery vehicles, including ships, submarines, planes and rockets, and how to verify such measures.

$100,000,000 Assets

Canadian Firm Seized By Brazilian State

RIO DE JANEIRO (Reuters)—Governor Carlos Lacerda of Brazil's Guanabara state announced Friday night he will take over the Canadian-owned Companhia Telefonica Brasileira immediately.

Lacerda said company authorities acted in bad faith during negotiations for government expropriation of the company. Lacerda returned from a trip to the United States Friday.

Expropriation negotiations had been suspended during his absence.

The company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Brazilian Traction, Light and Power Company Limited, with head offices in Toronto.

In Toronto, Henry Borden, president of Brazilian Traction said word of a take-over of one of his company's subsidiaries in Guanabara province of Brazil came as a "complete surprise."

"I have no information which would enable me to make any intelligent comment on the information which I have just received."

Current value of the assets in Guanabara province is about $100,000,000, he said, adding that it was part of Brazilian Traction's integrated operation of public utilities.

Investment Divorces Husband

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Christine M. Juranek, 25, was granted a divorce Friday after she testified in circuit court that her husband beat her because her pregnancy upset his timetable for retirement at 35.

Mrs. Juranek told Judge John Pavlik that her husband, Frank, 35, a systems and procedure analyst, said he married her as a business investment and expected her to continue working.

Mrs. Juranek was awarded one-third of her husband's $7,000 in stocks and $180 a month support.

Ecuadorian Cabinet Forced Out

QUITO (AP)—The Ecuadorian cabinet resigned Friday night in the face of growing army pressure for a break in relations with Premier Fidel Castro's regime in Cuba.

The move was reported to have been taken to permit President Carlos Arosemena to form a new cabinet that would carry out such a policy.

Arosemena said he will call a national referendum soon so the whole country can decide whether or not to break relations with Communist governments. The army will police the referendum and the regular national election group will count the votes.

Two days ago a group of officers at the garrison in Cuenca demanded that Arosemena break with Cuba and Communist Czechoslovakia within 48 hours or resign. They also were reported to have asked that Arosemena purge the government of all Communist sympathizers and fire Social Welfare Minister Juan Isaac Lovato.

Merged Agencies May Wipe Out Suits Over BCE

By PETER BRUTON

PROVINCIAL cabinet yesterday paved the way for a reduction in electricity bills by proclaiming the act establishing the new B.C. Hydro and Power Authority.

The B.C. Electric Company and the B.C. Power Commission are now officially merged and the joint chairmen of the new authority are BCE chairman Dr. Gordon Shrum and BCPC head Dr. Hugh Keenleyside.

They will both be paid $40,000 a year—the same salary now paid Dr. Shrum and exactly twice as much as the $20,000 paid Dr. Keenleyside.

The merger may wipe out the court actions against the BCE by former shareholders and may get around the court order issued last week putting the BCE in receivership until the compensation question has been settled.

Clubs Got 'Special Treatment' From Cabinet, Says Official

TORONTO (CP) — Deputy Provincial Secretary R. J. Cudney Friday mentioned the names of two Ontario cabinet ministers in connection with gambling club operations.

He told the royal commission on crime that:

1. Mines Minister James Maloney, now dead, told him in 1959 not to be "too hard" on the Centre Road Club at nearby Cooksville.

2. In effect, Attorney-General Kelso Roberts had provided "special treatment" for clubs in Niagara Falls, Windsor and Cooksville.

Mr. Cudney said Mr. Roberts instructed him that police did not have to be informed about applications for provincial charters in 1957, though this was the common practice at the time.

Mr. Cudney described this as special treatment of the three clubs, which have been described by police as "thorns in the flesh" of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Radiation May Cloud Robot Brains

WASHINGTON (CP) — Can radiation from nuclear explosions cause "amnesia" in the robot brains of missiles and anti-missile systems? If it can, the fact may force drastic revision by the United States of planning for offensive and defensive nuclear warfare.

This question may be one of the most important to be explored by American military scientists in the U.S. series of aerial nuclear blasts now scheduled for the mid-Pacific, starting late next month.

Some scientists think the intense emission of neutrons from a thermonuclear detonation may damage the delicate "memory cells" which are at the heart of any electronic computing system.

Without the information stored in the memory cells prior to launching, the computer would have no data with which to control the behavior of the missile in flight.

The same effect presumably could be produced on ground-based computer systems, essential for the detection, tracking and interception of enemy rockets.

The projected Nike-Zeus anti-missile system and the Ballistic Missile Early Warnings System utilize electronic brains extensively.

Hillcrest Acts to Head Off Shutdown of Troubled Mill

DUNCAN — An official of Hillcrest Lumber Co. said yesterday contract fallers will be employed by the firm to avert a total shutdown resulting from a 12-week-old dispute with 70 loggers.

The official said the step must be taken to ensure continuation of the sawmill operation and the livelihood of some 240 company employees.

He said contract fallers are prepared to commute from the Victoria area to the firm's Mesachie Lake operations west of Duncan at their own expense.

OWN EXPENSE

The 70 loggers idle as a result of the free bus dispute have refused to travel to work at their own expense. Until this year they travelled from the Duncan area to Mesachie Lake on company-operated buses.

Log production dropped from 25 to five truckloads a day following termination of the bus service. Only loggers still on the job were those whose homes were in the Mesachie Lake area.

IWA claims the bus service was a condition of employment in spite of the fact it was not required by terms of the union's agreement.

WON'T NEGOTIATE

The company claims the service was discontinued as an economy measure and has refused to negotiate its restoration.

A Duncan IWA spokesman said last night only two contract fallers reported for work at Hillcrest yesterday and one had told union members he wouldn't be back.

The union official said the use of contract fallers "is an act of intimidation," but declined to say what the union will do if the company continues or expands the policy.

Public Hearings End

Angus Sifts Evidence In Puntledge Dispute

COURTENAY — Dr. H. K. Angus has completed public hearings by his one-man royal commission investigating the Puntledge River fish-power dispute.

Now, he begins the difficult work—sifting the evidence, as he put it when hearings ended, to determine whether or not additional work should be carried out "taking into account the relative value of fish and power."

OR SOON WILL

The additional work, if ordered, would be done by B.C. Hydro along the river to protect salmon runs which many groups claimed have disappeared, or soon will.

B.C. Hydro officials testified they felt "less costly and simpler provisions" than fisheries officials want would be adequate.

Briefs were submitted by the Chamber of Commerce, Native Sons, Courtenay Fish and Game Protective Association, Save Our Salmon committee, Roderick Haig-Brown, auto courts, fishing resorts, the conservation department commercial fisheries branch and the Comox tribe.

All stated the tourist industry had been hurt by Puntledge power facilities (the haul dropped from 7,317 pounds in 1954 to 2,790 pounds last year) and some even claimed the entire $1,000,000 tourist industry could be wiped out unless quick action is taken.

IWA 'Notes' Profit

PORT ALBERNI—The IWA has taken note of increased net earnings of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd. in 1961 and plans to negotiate accordingly, a spokesman says.

Walter Allen, president of the large IWA local, here cited the company's net earnings increase from $24,575,000 in 1960 to $27,400,000.

He said the 1961 earnings bear out the union contention the coast forest industry is in "better shape that it has ever been."

"It is the intention of the negotiation committee and the membership to obtain our just share of the improved financial condition."

Year-Round Advice Albernis' Job Plan

PORT ALBERNI — A year-round employment committee may be set up in this district if recommendations of the local winter work committee are adopted.

At the March meeting of the group it was decided to make the recommendation and to ask for a speaker to give information on the mechanics of setting up a regular committee.

COMMUNITY VALUE

National Employment Service local manager Charles Harman said functions of the year-round committee include advising and assisting the local office and making suggestions of value to the community.

Secretary Dave Sargent was asked to prepare a report assessing the past year's program of the existing committee.

Date of the April meeting was left open with the idea of holding it when a speaker is available.

Canadian Artists Will Not Compete

NANAIMO — A Canadian music official says the trouble with young Canadian artists is they will not compete to get ahead.

George Zukerman, here in connection with tonight's concert by the Overture Concert Organization, said Canadian artists seem to feel they can find success in Canada by virtue of the fact they are Canadians.

He said American artists, with no government grants and no government radio network, know they have to compete to get ahead.

Mr. Zukerman's organization boasts 55 affiliated communities including Nanaimo.

Tonight a New York group, the Chanticheers, will present a program of classical and light classical music in the high school auditorium.

Crackdown On Blight Approved

Chinatown Mall Included in Plans

The provincial government has given approval in principle to city council's plans to clear and redevelop 28 acres of "blighted" property southeast of the Fountain Circle.

This was announced yesterday following a meeting between city, provincial and federal officials.

Plans for rehabilitation of Victoria's Chinatown, including construction of a mall in the 500 block of Fisgard Street were also approved.

Application will soon be made to the federal government for its approval in principle of the two schemes.

The joint meeting was held in the legislative buildings yesterday afternoon.

Mayor R. B. Wilson, Ald. A. W. Toone, Ald. Michael Griffin, city manager C. C. Wyatt, city engineer James Garnett and Anthony Roberts, director of the Capital Region Planning Board, represented city council at the meeting.

Provincial housing commissioner J. Everet Brown, represented the provincial government, and the federal government was represented by C. J. Dowling, manager of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation in Victoria, and other CMHC officials.

A third civic betterment project proposed by city council—rehabilitation of Victoria West by closing some minor streets and making them parklike pedestrian walks—will be carried out without the help of either the provincial or federal governments.

Canary Suffocates In Apartment Fire

A canary suffocated in a fire that started in a chesterfield at the apartment of Mrs. Mary Smith, 1429 Vining, at 2 p.m. yesterday.

Flames spread up a wall before they were quelled by city firemen. Mrs. Smith was away from home. Damage is estimated at close to $1,000.

Official Landmark Now

Lit Water Tower Will Be Part Of Survey Maps

Switch-On Monday

Victoria's floodlit water tower—dressed to represent a centennial candle this year—will be included on hydrographic survey maps in future as a landmark for mariners.

City planner Roderick Clack said yesterday officials of the hydrographic survey branch of the federal government were impressed by the brightly-lit tower when floodlights were briefly tested earlier this week.

FINAL SWITCH

Official switching-on of floodlights on the tower and at Craigdarroch Castle will take place at 8.45 p.m. Monday. Mayor R. B. Wilson will press a switch on the veranda of the castle to light the buildings.

Best vantage point for spectators is on Yates Street between Blanshard and Cook. Both the castle and the water tower can be seen from that area.

NEXT STAGE

Next stage in Victoria's street decoration program for the centennial year will begin next week—the hanging of 110 Union Jacks and Canadian Red Ensigns from lighting poles on Government, Yates and Fort Streets.

Rescued from Mud

Police and neighbors help to load 78-year-old Edward Fowlie, 3052 Admirals Road, on stretcher after he was rescued from muddy waters of small bay at rear of his home yesterday. He suffered exhaustion and shock and was reported in fair condition in St. Joseph's Hospital. Rescuers Frank Ivatt, 2898 Glenwood, and W. Findlay, 926 Westing, spotted elderly man floating face up in water. Incoherent when pulled from water, he told police he slipped in while walking along shore. Trapped by mud, he slogged across bay but fell about 25 feet from shore. Mr. Findlay tossed him rope and pulled him to safety.—(Colonist photo.)

Industry Not Trying?

Victoria's industrial development committee feels local industry is not making every possible effort to obtain contracts in this area, Ald. A. W. Toone said last night.

"Major contracts in this area should be handled by local contractors and local subtrades," he said.

Ald. Toone is chairman of the committee.

"The people letting contracts should make every effort to alert and encourage local bids. Victoria industry should be supported by buying Victoria made goods where possible."

Ald. Toone said the committee will watch the letting of local contracts and will make inquiries if local contractors do not get them.

He added the committee — formed by city council — will seek the backing of Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt in order to function effectively over the whole of the Greater Victoria area.

Peace Drive Has $21,000

City Cartage Firm Sold for $1,000,000

A Victoria cartage firm that began business with a horse and wagon 70 years ago and grew into a major Canadian concern, has been sold for almost $1,000,000.

Sale of Heaney Cartage and Storage Ltd. to Johnston Terminals Ltd. of Vancouver, biggest cartage and storage firm in Canada, was announced yesterday by William Heaney, majority shareholder of the family firm established in 1890.

"The firm will carry on here under its present name and as a separate entity," said Mr. Heaney.

The firm employs about 140 persons.

"The operation will go on as it is doing now with some assistance," said Roland Manrell, general manager of Johnston Terminals. "We look on this as an important expansion of our business. The new ferry service has brought Vancouver and Victoria very close and has greatly increased the demand for distribution service."

FEW YEARS AGO

Johnston Terminals already has warehousing facilities in the city. These were acquired when the Vancouver firm bought out Manning Lumber a few years ago.

Mr. Heaney will continue as a director and will join the board of Johnston Terminals. Robert McKenzie, manager of Heaney's, will carry on as general manager. He has been with the firm for 31 years.

SEVEN WAREHOUSES

The Victoria company owns seven warehouses and shops on six properties, 78 vehicles ranging from escort cars to giant tractors, 25 semi-trailers and five mobile cranes, ranging up to 25 tons in size.

The Johnston firm before the sale employed 650 workers and operated 430 vehicles as far east as Winnipeg.

PACK TRAIN

The Victoria firm was founded by Joseph Heaney who also ran a pack train of horses to Dawson City to supply gold rush miners with food. By 1912 it had grown to 30 horses and 25 wagons and three stables. It bought its first truck about the end of the First World War.

After Joseph Heaney died in 1921, the firm was operated by his brother, George. After his uncle died, William took over direction of the firm in 1930.

The firm now operates a daily freight service from Victoria to Vancouver and Campbell River.

First-Class Restaurant Planned in Dingle House

With the emphasis apparently on tourist trade in Greater Victoria's restaurant business, Victorians can look forward to a brand new cafe which is gearing its services to cater to local gourmets.

A $45,000 renovation job that will convert the old Dingle house on the 10-acre Redwood Lodge property to a first-class restaurant is expected to be completed by May 1.

Redwood Lodge, contrary to a report Friday, is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Armson.

LODGE BOUGHT

The lodge was purchased from Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Nordal last February for $400,000, Mr. Armson said yesterday.

No announcement was made at the time.

The new owners immediately launched the renovation project on the Dingle house, which, when completed, will feature a Victorian decor, replete with crystal chandeliers, said Mr. Armson.

"We intend to maintain reasonable prices to attract local business. The operation will be aimed at providing a family atmosphere in an attractive setting," he said.

The restaurant will have a seating capacity of 80 and will be operated in conjunction with the Lodge, he added.

AMPLE ROOM

"With 10 acres of property, we have ample room for further expansion," said Mr. Armson.

Mr. and Mrs. Armson sold their restaurant at Trail, B.C., which was rated among the best in Canada by travel agencies, after the purchase of Redwood Lodge was completed.

They had been in business at Trail for 17 years.

KEEPS NAME

Mr. Armson said the new cafe would retain the name Dingle House.

"It is widely known by that name here and we felt it would be a shame to lose a name that has been associated with the city."

Make Assessments Fair Ruling for Irregular Lots

CAMPBELL RIVER— A court of revision has recommended to village council that assessments for irregular-shaped lots should be determined by adding both sides and dividing by two.

This would "make it fair," said the court's three members, commission chairman R. D. Jamieson and commissioners A. D. Corker and Mrs. Isobel Sandberg.

Hearing was on appeals by Carl Thulin, D. Jones and King's Service Station against water and sewer frontage tax assessments.

Tyee Plaza Development Co. made a similar bid and won similar support. Two sections involved in its case are owned by outside bodies, the provincially-owned site of the Legion cenotaph and the village-owned site of the historical society museum.

Tourists Dying to See Real Native Canadians

Peter Bruton's NOTEBOOK

IN GOD WE TRUST: Perhaps he had nothing else to do, but for some reason Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau head William Hawkins has taken to bombarding me with letters—well, two in one day anyway.

Apparently he still feels what he once said on a television interview . . . that people like George L. Warren who took offence at Victoria being considered part of Vancouver were wasting their time in complaining.

Writes Bill: "What time and effort we have here is being devoted to such publicity as the spread in the National Geographic magazine (recommended reading for anyone) . . ." etc.

The way I read the National Geographic piece, it seemed more a publicity blurb for Bill Hawkins and Sam Lane than anything else, but perhaps that's beside the point.

Anyway, Bill has a problem which he wants to share.

"As long as you have taken such great personal interest in the operations of the publicity bureau, perhaps you'll be kind enough to advise us how best we may answer this inquiry received today," he writes in his second letter.

The inquiry: "My 11-year-old son and I plan on being in Victoria on April 23 and 24. We would like to make hotel reservations in a hotel that has a 'Canadian air.' In other words we would like to stay somewhere where there aren't too many American tourists.

"My son is learning about Canada in sixth grade now and it would be especially interesting to him to see real native Canadians in their daily living. It would also be interesting to me."

Maybe the prize for the person who comes up with the best idea to help this family should be tourist bureau commissioner. Apparently the present one doesn't know what to do.

A QUIET AFFAIR: The Social Credit government brags that it keeps the people informed.

It sure didn't keep the former B.C. Electric and B.C. Power Commission people here informed about yesterday's merger.

Officials in the two former agencies had to telephone the newspapers to see whether it was true the merger had indeed taken place.

It is understood not even Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, joint chairman of the new authority, knew before the cabinet order was released to the press.

The fact Dr. Keenleyside's salary was doubled to $40,000 must have been a pleasant shock.

SIGN IN PASSING: Rivalry between employees of the former B.C. Electric and B.C. Power Commission remains keen despite the merger of the two agencies.

The power commission has been working feverishly the past few days to complete a new "B.C. Hydro and Power Authority" sign ahead of the BCE.

The commission building sported the new sign late yesterday afternoon.

"We wanted to show the relative efficiency of the commission," said an official—somewhat proudly.

"Gosh," retorted someone from the BCE. "We didn't even think about that!"

Mayor Asks City MLAs For Help in Lost Taxes

Mayor R. B. Wilson yesterday asked Victoria's three Social Credit MLAs to help in obtaining grants in lieu of taxes lost this year with the removal of B.C. Electric, B.C. Power Commission and Black Ball Ferry properties from the city tax roll.

"They were very sympathetic to our problem, and they hope to have an answer to it soon," Mayor Wilson said.

"The premier did say there would be a grant in lieu of taxes but he didn't say how much.

"Taxes for general purposes (lost to the city when the three properties were taken off the tax roll) amounts to a fair amount of money—$128,500."

LIGHT BILLS CUT ONE-SIXTH HERE

BRITISH COLUMBIA HYDRO AND POWER AUTHORITY

Authority Sets Rates

VANCOUVER Island householders can look forward to power rates cut from 11 to 60 per cent as a result of a new rate schedule announced yesterday by the new B.C. Hydro and Power Authority.

Rate reductions will be immediate.

The long-awaited new schedule is aimed at assisting the moderate user and the rural resident.

FIRST STEPS

Rate cuts apply only to the first two steps on the schedule —consumption of the first 100 and the second 200 kilowatt hours.

To obtain the percentage reductions cited in connection with the power authority announcement the consumer would have to use 200 kilowatt hours or less. An average amount of electricity used by a householder in one month is 900 kilowatts.

ISLAND CUTS

Percentage cuts based on 300 kilowatt hours consumption in Vancouver Island communities are:

- Victoria and environs 13 to 16 per cent.
- Alberni, Port Alberni, Comox, Campbell River, Nanaimo, eight to 11 per cent.
- Ucluelet 30 to 45 per cent.
- Port Hardy 58 to 60 per cent.

A Victoria area consumer using 900 kilowatt hours a month and paying approximately $16.10 under the old rate structure would save about $2.10 on the new scale.

10-15 PER CENT

Rate reductions on the Lower Mainland will range from 10 to 15 per cent for minimum residential users.

Farm consumers for the first time will be put on a par with householders for all electricity actually used for farm purposes. Previously farmers paid a slightly higher rate.

Legislation creating the new power authority melding B.C. Electric Co. Ltd. and the British Columbia Power Commission came into effect yesterday. (See story this page.)

The reductions were announced following a lengthy meeting between Premier Bennett and directors of the new authority in Vancouver.

SAVE MILLIONS

Mr. Bennett told reporters the reduction would save the people $5,500,000 annually on their light bills and in 10 years would cost the authority $70,000,000.

He said that this was only a beginning, that other reductions would be considered from time to time by the directors of the power authority.

GIANT CHEQUE

At the same time Premier Bennett announced that a cheque for $60,000,000 has been sent to the B.C. Power Corporation.

The government paid BCP $111,000,000 when it took over B.C. Electric last August. The $60,000,000 is to bring the final and fixed price paid by the government to $171,000,000 under legislation that provides it cannot be challenged in the courts.

The premier was asked repeatedly about the status of BCE but he declined to answer any questions concerning the court litigation.

"I DON'T HEAR YOU"

"I don't hear you," the premier said repeatedly as reporters pressed for details.

"What if B.C. Power Corporation refuses to accept the $60,000,000 cheque?" one reporter asked.

Magna Pipeline On Island By May, 1963

VANCOUVER (CP)—President Ralph K. Farris of Magna Pipe Line Company said Friday it is hoped the firm will have completed its natural gas pipeline to Vancouver Island by May, 1963.

Mr. Farris told the company's annual meeting he hopes next year's meeting will be a "turning on" ceremony.

UNWILLING TO SWITCH

Mr. Farris said completion of the pipeline by the end of 1962 was possible but not advisable since domestic users would be unwilling to convert their heating systems in mid-winter.

Magna will serve industrial users directly but will not itself provide retail distribution in urban areas.

VICTORIA-NANAIMO

The first stage of the Vancouver Island plan will serve the area from Victoria to Nanaimo. The second stage, to be completed by 1966, will extend the service to the Alberni, Campbell River, Elk Falls, Texada Island and Powell River on the mainland.

National Armies Replaced by UN U.S. Geneva Plan

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States will submit to the Geneva disarmament conference a plan calling for elimination of national armies within nine years and their replacement by a United Nations force, reliable sources said yesterday.

The American plan is to be submitted to the 17-nation group to counter a Soviet draft treaty for general and complete disarmament within four years, introduced when the conference opened here two weeks ago.

UNDUE ADVANTAGE

The West complains that the Russian four-year plan gives the Russians an undue military advantage in the early stages and does not include specific and detailed proposals for international controls to insure each nation destroys its arms on schedule.

The American plan was said to include these precautions as well as a UN peace force to maintain international law and order as national defences are torn down. The Soviet plan omits any mention of a standing peace force.

NEED BLUEPRINT

At yesterday's session the Soviet tried to commit the United States to total disarmament within four years but American negotiator Arthur Dean told Soviet delegate Valerin Zorin "you cannot build a house without a blueprint."

Dean proposed instead the 17-nation group set up subcommittees to consider such specific problems as how to end nuclear weapons production, how to destroy or reduce nuclear delivery vehicles, including ships, submarines, planes and rockets, and how to verify such measures.

$100,000,000 Assets

Canadian Firm Seized By Brazilian State

RIO DE JANEIRO (Reuters)—Governor Carlos Lacerda of Brazil's Guanabara state announced Friday night he will take over the Canadian-owned Companhia Telefonica Brasileira immediately.

Lacerda said company authorities acted in bad faith during negotiations for government expropriation of the company. Lacerda returned from a trip to the United States Friday.

Expropriation negotiations had been suspended during his absence.

The company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Brazilian Traction, Light and Power Company Limited, with head offices in Toronto.

In Toronto, Henry Borden, president of Brazilian Traction, said word of a take-over of one of his company's subsidiaries in Guanabara province of Brazil came as a "complete surprise."

"I have no information which would enable me to make any intelligent comment on the information which I have just received."

Current value of the assets in Guanabara province is about $100,000,000, he said, adding that it was part of Brazilian Traction's integrated operation of public utilities.

Investment Divorces Husband

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Christine M. Juranek, 25, was granted a divorce Friday after she testified in circuit court that her husband beat her because her pregnancy upset his timetable for retirement at 35.

Mrs. Juranek told Judge John Pavlik that her husband, Frank, 36, a systems and procedure analyst, said he married her as a business investment and expected her to continue working.

Mrs. Juranek was awarded one-third of her husband's $7,000 in stocks and $150 a month support.

Ecuadorian Cabinet Forced Out

QUITO (AP)—The Ecuadorian cabinet resigned Friday night in the face of growing army pressure for a break in relations with Premier Fidel Castro's regime in Cuba.

The move was reported to have been taken to permit President Carlos Arosemena to form a new cabinet that would carry out such a policy.

Arosemena said he will call a national referendum soon so the whole country can decide whether or not to break relations with Communist governments. The army will police the referendum and the regular national election group will count the votes.

Two days ago a group of officers at the garrison in Cuenca demanded that Arosemena break with Cuba and Communist Czechoslovakia within 48 hours or resign. They also were reported to have asked that Arosemena purge the government of all Communist sympathizers and fire Social Welfare Minister Juan Isaac Lovato.

Merged Agencies May Wipe Out Suits Over BCE

By PETER BRUTON

PROVINCIAL cabinet yesterday paved the way for a reduction in electricity bills by proclaiming the act establishing the new B.C. Hydro and Power Authority.

The B.C. Electric Company and the B.C. Power Commission are now officially merged and the joint chairmen of the new authority are BCE chairman Dr. Gordon Shrum and BCPC head Dr. Hugh Keenleyside.

They will both be paid $40,000 a year—the same salary now paid Dr. Shrum and exactly twice as much as the $20,000 paid Dr. Keenleyside.

The merger may wipe out the court actions against the BCE by former shareholders and may get around the court order issued last week putting the BCE in receivership until the compensation question has been settled.

Clubs Got 'Special Treatment' From Cabinet, Says Official

TORONTO (CP) — Deputy Provincial Secretary R. J. Cudney Friday mentioned the names of two Ontario cabinet ministers in connection with gambling club operations.

He told the royal commission on crime that:

1. Mines Minister James Maloney, now dead, told him in 1959 not to be "too hard" on the Centre Road Club at nearby Cooksville.

2. In effect, Attorney-General Kelso Roberts had provided "special treatment" for clubs in Niagara Falls, Windsor and Cooksville.

Mr. Cudney said Mr. Roberts instructed him that police did not have to be informed about applications for provincial charters in 1957, though this was the common practice at the time.

Mr. Cudney described this as special treatment of the three clubs, which have been described by police as "thorns in the flesh" of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Radiation May Cloud Robot Brains

WASHINGTON (CP) — Can radiation from nuclear explosions cause "amnesia" in the robot brains of missiles and anti-missile systems? If it can, the fact may force drastic revision by the United States of planning for offensive and defensive nuclear warfare.

This question may be one of the most important to be explored by American military scientists in the U.S. series of aerial nuclear blasts now scheduled for the mid-Pacific, starting late next month.

Some scientists think the intense emission of neutrons from a thermonuclear detonation may damage the delicate "memory cells" which are at the heart of any electronic computing system.

Without the information stored in the memory cells prior to launching, the computer would have no data with which to control the behavior of the missile in flight.

The same effect presumably could be produced on ground-based computer systems, essential for the detection, tracking and interception of enemy rockets.

The projected Nike-Zeus anti-missile system and the Ballistic Missile Early Warnings System utilize electronic brains extensively.

Merging Traffic

"Best flying I've ever done," said Richard Ostow making this wing-crumpling landing on highway near Los Angeles. Neither he nor his three passengers was injured. Plane's carburetor had iced up and engine stalled.
